'Miracle' Saves Two Truckers In Crash

City Pair Walk Away After Truck Demolished By Train

By Maury Soward
Bulletin Staff Writer

Two men walked away last night after a locomotive rolled their gravel truck end over end for 100 yards and was then derailed.

Their miraculous escape followed an accident on the CNR main line crossing near Clover Bar at 8:20 p.m.

Truck driver Bert Cobb, 28, of 9807-151 street, who suffered a cut chin and deep lacerations to his right knee, is reported in fairly good condition at Royal Alexandra Hospital.

His passenger, Rupert Pfeifle, 20, of 9916-162 street, was released after treatment for small cuts to his scalp and left knee.

The three-ton 1945 model truck loaded with gravel, was hit broadside by the 15-car train which was carrying oil on a non-stop run to Wainwright.

The train pushed the truck end-over-end 100 yards along the track with Cobb and Pfeifle inside before shoving it to the right opposite the Clover Bar station.

Pfeifle said he believed he suffered his head injuries by being hurled brough the windshield of the truck.

He said that both he and Cobb crawled from the driver's side of the smashed truck.

SEEN TOO LATE

Pfeifle said he did not see the train "until it was too late" because of bushes at the crossing which obscured his vision.

The engine was derailed at the station but pulled the 15 oil cars another 275 yards before emergency brakes brought it to a stop.

Engineer Harry Marsh, 10514-128 street, said he couldn't see the southbound truck as it was on the blind side of the eastward-moving engine.

"I just heard a crash and saw the dust flying," he said. "I instinctively applied the emergency brakes but the crash broke the air line and they were already operating automatically."

REGULAR SPEED

Engineer for the last 18 months on the Wainwright run out of Calder, Marsh said the train was moving at its regular speed of 35 mph. Other witnesses estimated the truck's speed at approximately 20 mph.

Cobb and Pfeifle, drivers for Dales Hauling and Excavating Company, Edmonton, were bringing a

Neil Colville Reported Taking Rangers' Post

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 9—(AP)—The New Haven Register says today that Neil Colville is slated to replace Lynn Patrick, who resigned recently, as coach of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

Sports editor Charles W. Kellogg says hockey sources here—where Colville served as coach-manager of the recently disbanded New Haven Ramblers—and in Canada, have told him that Colville will take over as boss of the Rangers before the end of this month.

While refusing to be quoted, the sources independently said that Colville, one of the Rangers' most popular veterans, already has been informed of his new post, the paper reports.

Shortly after the close of the American Hockey league wars, Colville, 36-year-old Edmonton product, told him, Kellogg says, that he would be retained in the Ranger organization "either in a coaching or scouting role." At that time no final decision had been made on the disposition of the Ranger farm team in this city.

PARLEY NEXT MONTH

Subsequent word from Colville, now in Edmonton, indicated that he planned to be in the east this fall. Since the Rangers have ceased operations in New Haven and Phil Watson has been retained as coach of New York Rovers, the Ranger entry in the Eastern Amateur Association, it is indicated that Colville would have to be in New York.

A Ranger official told the Register this week that he will confer with Colville on the west coast early next month but refused to divulge the subject matter of their talks.

In a recent conversation, Colville told the Register that "I have been approached by several other clubs but have decided to stay with the Rangers. They've offered me a very good deal."

It is known that Gen. John "Iced" Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden and of the Rangers, considers Colville one of the most capable men on the Blues' payroll.

Cards Defy Chandler On Sunday Night Game

ST. LOUIS, June 9—(BUP)—The St. Louis Cardinals today refused to call off their Sunday night game with the Brooklyn Dodgers here on July 16 unless they get "a full hearing" from baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler, who had ordered the date changed.

NEW YORK, June 9—(BUP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler today ordered the St. Louis Cardinals to cancel a Sunday night game scheduled for July 16 because it would conflict with church services.

The game against the Brooklyn Dodgers originally was scheduled Friday June 2, but was postponed Sunday, then rescheduled for July 16 at the request of Cardinal owner Fred Saigh, president of the Cardinal club, then re-scheduled it as the first Sunday night game in the history of Major League baseball. A day game also is scheduled for July 16, so there would be two admissions for the two games.

Chandler, in ordering cancellation of the Sunday night date, said that the conflict with religious services and the popularity of the Sunday doubleheader—presenting two games for one admission—gave him "no alternative" but to order cancellation of the Sunday game. Brooklyn Dodgers have played morning and afternoon games with separate admissions, but never on Sundays.

LONDON, June 9—(AP)—A United States B-29 bomber which fell in flames into the North Sea Wednesday with a loss of at least three lives shot itself down during gunnery practice, headquarters of the 3rd air division said today.

Bullets from the plane's machine guns struck the right outboard engine during a firing run on a gunnery range off the Norfolk Coast, spokesman said, setting the plane on fire.

Johnny Bulla Shoots Scorching 4-Under Par

ARDMORE, Pa., June 9.—(AP)—Johnny Bulla, long-hitting professional from Verona, Pa., forged the second lowest score of the 50th National Open golf championship today with a second-round 66, four under par.

He coupled 35-31 over the 6,694-yard, par 36-36—70 layout to add to his first round score of 74. This gave him a halfway total of 140, the lowest among earlier finishers in the tournament.

Lee Markey, Jr., unemployed and unknown Birmingham, Ala., pro, set the U.S. Open and course record yesterday with a 66. He was scheduled to tee off this afternoon.

Sam Snead virtually blew himself out of the championship with a five-over-par 75 that gave him a halfway total of 148.

LITTLE HOPE

Eight strokes over Merion's regulation 36-34—70 for the first two rounds there appeared no hope for the slugging West Virginian who has missed three open titles by two strokes and less.

Meanwhile, Jim Ferrier, the transplanted Australian now representing Chicago, jumped into the early lead with Bulla each with par 140. Ferrier, playing in the same threesome with Snead, coupled a 69 with a first round 71.

Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C., also fashioned a 140 to make it a three-way tie a few hours later. Boros had a 72 added to his yesterday's 68.

Ben Hogan, the Hit Texan, whose career was almost shattered by an auto accident 17 months ago, came scorching n with a one-under par 69, giving him a total of 141 for two rounds.

RIEGEL UNDER

Only sub-par rounds were registered by Robert (Skee) Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., the former amateur champion, whose 69 gave him a tie at 142 with Bob Toski of Northampton, Mass., who added a 69 to a previous 73; and Joe Thacker, of Barberton, Ohio, who had a 69 for a halfway 144.

The British amateur champion, Frank Stranahan, and Johnny Palmer, the touring pro of Badin, N.C., had even par 70s. Stranahan's 36-hole total is 149. Palmer's a 143.

At yesterday's sale 618 steers were sold and the average price was $27.96 a hundredweight.

Alleged Plot Brings Sentence Of Death To Four

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 9.—(UP)—Mrs. Milada Horokova, 49, a former member of parliament, and three other Czechs, were sentenced to death last night on charges they plotted to overthrow the Communist government at the direction of Western diplomats.

Four other defendants were sentenced to life imprisonment and the remaining five received prison terms ranging from 15 to 28 years.

Western observers said they expected at least two British diplomats would be expelled from Czechoslovakia on the basis of testimony in the trial.

Crash 'Like Thunder' Declares Eye-Witness

"The crash was like thunder."

That's exactly what last night's spectacular train-truck crash near Clover Bar at the CNR mainline crossing sounded like to farmer Fred Ottewell.

He was 300 yards away at the time sowing grain in his fields which run alongside the railway tracks. The 15-car train crashed the three-ton truck broadside, said Ottewell.

RUNS ACROSS FIELDS

"And then the rear of the truck was pushed up into the train's headlight," he added. "It was pushed end over end along the tracks for about 100 yards. I saw gravel flying all over from the load the truck had carried.

"I started running across my fields and by the time I reached the tracks, the train had pushed the truck over to the right. I expected the men inside would all be in pieces."

But one was lying on the gravel about 15 feet away from the truck. Apparently he had been thrown right across the line when the truck finally stopped."

"The other man crawled out of the car on the other side from the driver's seat. His face was all covered with blood but after a while he got up, and walked around.

"I've never seen anything like it. The back of the truck was all twisted, the gravel box had been torn off and the back wheels were missing. The hood was pushed in.

"They weren't killed but it's a miracle."

Grand Jury Indicts Trio

WASHINGTON, June 9—(AP)—A Brooklyn grand jury today indicted Harry Gold, Philadelphia chemist, and two unidentified persons on charges of atom spying against the United States.

The indictment was announced here by the justice department.

In addition to Gold, the indictment named "John Doe, alias 'John' and Richard Roe, alias 'Sam,'" and asserted that "the true and correct names" of these persons were unknown to the jurors.

Gold was arrested at Philadelphia last May 23.

RUSSIAN AGENT

The espionage information filed against him at the time of his arrest mentioned also a "John Doe" described as an agent for the Russian government.

This "John Doe" was alleged to have received from Gold atomic secrets which had been passed to Gold by Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the British scientist who has since been sent to prison in Britain.

By naming "Richard Roe", the indictment introduced another mysterious figure into the alleged wartime traffic in secret data.

There was no indication here as to who "Richard Roe, alias 'Sam,'" might be.

Extent of Supply Should Come First

Counsel Warns Gas Market May Go Before Hearings End

CALGARY, June 9.—Bruce Smith, KC, representing Prairie Transmission Company, suggested to Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board Thursday that hearings be speeded up by the elimination of a lot of detail and evidence regarding markets.

Said Mr. Smith: "What this board has to decide, first of all, is whether Alberta has gas for export or not. If not, then all this time and effort is being wasted." He suggested the board concentrate on the matter of reserves and whether export could be permitted.

This question, he said, must be decided before anyone can be granted a permit. If these hearings continue on their present course they may take years, with resulting loss to someone else of the very markets we have been talking about.

C. E. Smith, KC, acting for the Conservation Board, said that under the legal set-up applicants had to be heard in whatever order they wished to give their evidence.

DATA SECRET

Earlier in the hearing Westcoast Transmission and Northwest Natural Gas Company clashed over the submission substantiating data. Northwest is applying for a permit to export gas. Cost estimates were given in some cases in bulk figures.

D. P. Macdonald,KC, acting for Westcoast, asked that field notes taken by engineers outlining the route be submitted to the board to substantiate the conclusions given in to the board as evidence.

H. G. Nolan, KC, acting for Northwest, stated that his company was not at the hearing for the purpose of satisfying Westcoast Transmission. Because these notes were of a highly secret nature and the contractor testifying was in a highly competitive business, it would not be proper to file them.

However, during the Westcoast hearing last January, Mr. Nolan had demanded that Westcoast file the actual field notes of its engineers who had examined the Yellowhead route on the grounds that this was proper and vital information for consideration of the board.

At that time the board ruled that Westcoast should file the notes and Thursday the board ruled that Northwest should also file its field notes.

Two Escape When Train Hits Truck

load of gravel into the city from Clover Bar.

The box holding the gravel was forced up against the train's headlights by the impact with the truck facing the ground, according to farmer Fred Oltewell. He was seeding his fields just 300 yards away at the time of the accident.

Oltewell said the gravel was "flying all over the place" as the truck began to turn end over end, pushed by the train engine along the tracks.

TRUCK SCATTERED

Rear wheels and axle of the truck were found about 50 yards from the crossing alongside the tracks which were sprayed with splintered wood from the gravel box of the truck. What was left of the box was thrown 50 yards past the spot where the truck came to rest.

Oltewell and trainman A. J. Music, 12924-65 street, were first on the scene.

Conductor Harry Kibbe, 10528-105 avenue, phone RCMP and ambulances. Meanwhile, Music and another trainman, with the help of 10 bystanders, rolled the derailed truck on its side and off the main line so CNR passenger trains No. 1 and 2 could pass.

Smith's ambulance took the two injured truckers to hospital. Damage to their truck was approximately $3,000.

A CNR wrecking crew labored for eight hours during the night with a heavy crane hoist to move the derailed engine back on the tracks. It was taken back to the Calder yards for repairs to the front which was smashed in. Estimated damage is $5,000.

"New plant will meet steadily increasing demand for commercial explosives required by oil companies, gold mining, coal mining and other kinds of mineral development organizations," Mr. Adams said.

Start on erection of the plant will likely be made early this summer and it should be completed by 1952.

Approximately 100 men will be employed when the plant starts operations.

Jewel Robbery Seen As Train Fire Motive

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 9.—(UP)—A fire which killed five persons aboard the Birmingham-Glasgow express may have been deliberately set as a coverup for a $28,000 jewel robbery, Scotland Yard agents said today.

The fire swept three coaches of the train last night, trapping a mother and her two children, and another woman and a man, all riding in one compartment. All burned to death.

Jewels worth $28,000 placed aboard the train in Birmingham were missing after the fire. The gem shipment disappeared from a locked luggage coach which was not harmed in the fire, guards said.

Agents from Scotland Yard immediately began questioning passengers on the possibility that thieves set the fire to distract attention while they broke into the luggage coach.

SPREAD QUICKLY

"The fire began while the train was moving," the Glasgow station-master said. "Helped by the wind, it spread very quickly."

The express was 42 miles from Glasgow on its northbound run when the fire broke out.

The blaze apparently started on a canvas hood between two first class coaches. It spread rapidly through three cars, destroying two.

The train rolled to a stop halfway up 1,652-foot Mount Beattock beside a row of railway workers' cottages.

Residents heard the screams of the passengers and came running with buckets of water.

U.S. Must Continue To Aid West Europe, Says Truman

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9.—(AP)—President Truman said today that post-Marshall Plan abandonment of aid to Western Europe would be disastrous to peace.

"Instead, that nation wished to prolong and intensify the misery of others, so that it could gain domination over them. The plain intent of that nation was to overthrow the tradition of freedom which is shared by our country and many others.

The program, Truman said, calls for a community of nations which can resist Communism whether its aggression takes the form of "internal subversion or external attack."

"In a world full of dangers," he said, the United States must continue its contributions to free countries lest "the Communists move in."

He made it clear in an address prepared for graduation exercises of the University of Missouri that he is convinced "our vital national interest in a healthy world economy" will not end when Marshall Plan aid stops in 1952.

"You hear a lot of talk these days to the effect that the world is full of dangers, and that our civilization is heading straight for disaster.

NOT HOPELESS

"Of course, the world is full of dangers—the world has always been full of dangers, for people in every country and at every period of history."

But in spite of these dangers, he added, "our civilization need not wind up in disaster."

"It can go on to greater heights. Those who are frightened and dismayed do not have faith that men will use scientific advances for good ends. They see only the dangers in the world—not the opportunities."

He cited American foreign aid to the democracies after the war when it "became clear that one nation did not want to help world recovery."

Indies' Batsmen Have Hard Time

MANCHESTER, Lancashire, England, June 9.—(Reuters)—West Indies batsmen had to struggle today on a spin bowlers' wicket to score 102 for four wickets in reply to England's first innings of 312 on the second day of the season's first cricket test.

After carrying their overnight score of 17 of no wicket to 52, they lost four quick wickets by lunch.

Three of these were taken for 21 runs by young left-arm slow-bowler Bob Berry, playing on his home pitch.

15 Rail Workers Die In Landslide

TOKYO, Japan, June 9.—(UP)—Fifteen railroad workers were killed, 36 were missing and 20 seriously injured today when a landslide buried, a work crew on the Tokyo-Naguno rail line 100 miles northwest of here.

Tons of rain-soaked sand and rock rolled down a mountain side onto the workers while they were clearing the tracks of debris left by a similar earlier landslide.

Five Prisoners Killed

PATIALA, Punjab, June 9.—(Reuters)—Five prisoners were killed and 14 injured when wardens opened fire on rioting convicts in Patiala central jail yesterday.

THIS OVERSIZE mobile clotheswringer is designed to wring higher seed yield from alfalfa. Designed and built in Alberta, it "massages" petals between rollers.

Tractor Started by Gun; Machine Opens Petals

By Stanley Burke
Bulletin Staff Writer

Ever see a tractor with a "hundred yard sprinter" starting outfit?

Or a machine specifically designed to massage alfalfa blossoms?

As always at agricultural events, the machinery display at yesterday's provincial plowing and tilling championship attracted thousands of interested visitors.

Most unusual exhibit was a British diesel tractor that starts like a track sprinter—a gun is fired to make it go.

Starting of the engine—always a problem in diesels—is solved by firing a blank cartridge which blasts the engine into life. The shotgun shell-type blank is inserted into the side of the tractor and struck with a hammer generating gas to roll over the engine.

OPENS PETALS

The alfalfa petal massaging machine was designed by Harold Evelen Stony Plain grower, and built by Coutts' Machinery in Edmonton.

The machine is designed to increase seed yield in alfalfa by opening the blossoms, explained demonstrator R. T. Coutts, manager of the company.

"Seed yield is often cut to almost nothing when blossoms fail to open. This machine opens them by squeezing them between soft rubber rollers," he said.

The oversize mobile clotheswringer goes on test at the university in the near future and will go into commercial production if proven successful. Preliminary tests have been highly encouraging, the builder stated, models having been under test for several years on the designer's farm.

Breakage Brings Suspended Term

Six months suspension of sentence was given Lawrence Leidl 1014 -106 street, for damaging four cars parked in the Highlands Court late Saturday night.

Leidal appeared in police court this morning.

It was reported in court that Highland Court tenant Arthur Hepworth investigated sound of breaking glass and found defendant breaking a car window.

He struggled with Leidl, subdued him, and called the police.

Four cars were damaged, total damage amounting to approximately $300. Windows, radio, aerials and a glove compartment door were broken.

CITY, ARMY TRAFFIC POSER NOW SETTLED

A three-year conflict between Edmonton's and the province's rules on traffic at intersections has been removed.

The recently-passed new traffic bylaw for Edmonton now conforms to the provincial statute which gives the first vehicle into an intersection the right of way, provided the driver has given a proper turning signal.

City Solicitor Thomas Garside today clarified the situation, following a judgment by Mr. Justice Kelly in the Exchequer Court in which it was pointed out that a conflict existed at the time of an accident last July.

Mr. Justice Kelly awarded Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nadeau and their daughter Elzire, all of 12836 Fort Road, a total of $9,870 damages in a claim against the Canadian Army.

Blooming Clever!

DETROIT—(UP)—Frances Hill, 24, described by police as a "bloomer girl" shoplifter, was sentenced to 90 days in jail. Police said a companion snatched jewelry and clothing in a department store and stuffed them in Miss Hill's capacious bloomers.

Bank Building Ends August 1

Extension of the main branch of Royal Bank of Canada here, costing $100,000, will be completed about August. 1.

This was announced today by W. A. Hyndman, main branch manager.

Two-storey addition and the basement extend from present building on Jasper Avenue near 100 street, to the north lane.

It will provide additional 4,000 square feet of space.

New safety deposit vaults and money vaults have also been installed.

Building extension is fully fireproofed and walls are sound-proofed.

Pulp Mill Power Talks Near End

Sweezey Inspects Prospects For Hydro At Spray Lakes

Negotiations for obtaining electric power for the proposed $14,000,000 pulp and paper plant near Clover Bar are "just about completed," Montreal financier H. O. Sweezey said today.

Mr. Sweezey heads a syndicate of eastern financers who are promoting the pulp mill project.

The Montreal business man is leaving for southern Alberta today to look over hydro power developments at Spray Lakes in the Rocky Mountain foothills area.

He said he wished to obtain first-hand engineering data on the Spray Lakes project.

"I am just about finished with negotiations to obtain electric power for the plant here," Mr. Sweezey said.

He said these negotiations are with Calgary Power Co., and Edmonton civic officials. The company plans to use both Edmonton and Calgary Power company electricity.

DIESEL STAND-BY

"We also expect to develop some power from our own diesel power plant," he said.

Work on clearing a site for the plant is expected to start within a few weeks, although the actual site has not yet been definitely selected, Mr. Sweezey said.

The syndicate has options on sites on each side of the Saskatchewan river near Imperial Oil refinery at Clover Bar.

SALEM DEPOT, N.H.—(UP)—A fuel dealer, John F. Sullivan, had had no experience in the postal service when he was named postmaster here. But he had plenty of advice from relatives. He succeeded his father, Patrick. His mother is a clerk in the post office. His uncle is a letter carrier. And his two sisters are former postal clerks.

TOO MANY CATS IN TWO BOXES, JUDGE DECIDES

CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—A man who crowds 36 cats into two crates deserves punishment, Judge William V. Daly said yesterday while fining Leslie J. Elmendorf, $50 and costs for cruelty to animals. Allen A. Glisch of the Animal Welfare League testified that Elmendorf, 50, had crowded 17 cats in one crate and 19 in another April 14. He was taking them to a biological supply house for killing and use in research, Glisch said.

Twins In Accord

FLINT, Mich.—(UP)—Mrs. Leon B. Miller and Mrs. Edgar M. Towne, identical twins, became mothers within 24 hours of each other. Mrs. Miller gave birth to a girl while her sister had a boy.

Fire Spreads To Dwelling

Fire from a children's playhouse spread yesterday afternoon and burned wall of a house at 10128 102 street.

The house, which is occupied by Art Brady and his family, had part of the roof damaged.

Mr. Brady said he did not remember any children being in the playhouse before the fire, as his daughter Donna was asleep upstairs at the time.

Fire was first noticed by Mrs. Brady. She said she looked out the kitchen window and saw the side of the house burning.

A passing workman gave the alarm.

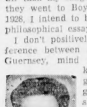
JACK SCOTT

Synthetic Romance Ignores Finer Feelings Of Lowly Cow



CHILLIWACK, B.C.—Just as soon as I can shake off this lethargy, induced by more fresh air than my lungs have had since they went to Boy Scout camp in 1928, I intend to bring you a long philosophical essay on cows.

I don't positively know the difference between a Jersey and a Guernsey, mind you, but I do know that cows generally are getting pretty shoddy treatment. I was watching a cow today from my office (a hammock I've slung from the back of the trailer to a small, convenient pine) and I thought to myself "Jack," I thought, "you ought to say something nice about this cow."

City people like us just take the cow for granted. So long as the quart is delivered to the stoop every morning we're happy. We never stop to think what coffee would be like without the cow. What would a milk shake be without the cow? A shake, that's all.

THEY'RE IGNORED

But, land-o-goshen, city folks aren't nearly as ungrateful as the country folks themselves.

We're right in the heart of a rich dairyland here in the Fraser Valley and we've been around talking to several of the dairymen and, naturally, the subject of cows does come up pretty often.

Do the farmers talk about those patient bovine with respect or affection? Do they say, look yonder at those splendid serene beasts to whom I owe my new Chevrolet and ten set of Encyclopedia Britannica and maw's new Rose Marx?

Not on your life. All they say about the cow is that she is stupid. I haven't met a farmer yet who wasn't dying to prove with statistics or anecdotes that the girl who makes his bread and butter is a dope.

Like the fellow told us yesterday about how one of his cows got stuck between two piles of lumber and got so frantic she smothered to death in there. No sympathy, no compassion for the poor critter. I'd like to see what he'd do stuck between two piles of lumber.

THE NEW WAY

Probably the worst thing that ever happened to the cow is going right on here in this valley centre. It's called the Chilliwack Artificial Insemination Club — club, for heaven's sake!—and so far as I know there's been nobody to give the cow's side of the thing at all.

Way this "club" works, about 400 dairymen have set up a selection committee. Committee looks over the list of blue-ribbon bulls (including gay, dashing bulls from Paris, Ontario) and decides which would make superior sires Federal Department of Agriculture then buys these bulls and makes them available to the "club" member at $5 a service.

Well, sir, this has just about put an end to the natural age-old story of bull meets cow. The whole thing now is done with test tubes and—oh, my! the indignities these simple, trusting animals submit to.

It would sure make racy reading if I were certain the kiddies were in bed.

WHAT ABOUT HER?

Now, all this is fine for the dairyman. The milk-predictive ability of a cow is transmitted through the sire (I'll bet you didn't know this, either) and, so, bulls of superior breeding are important, particularly when they can perform their end of the deal through the mail or by delivery boy.

Also, the small dairyman with only 20 or 30 cows who can't afford to keep a bull for such a small herd can now get the very best by just picking up the phone.

But what about the cow? That's what I want to know. Why, do you know, yesterday at the new barn the "club" recently built, there were some cows, heifers and young bulls in a field who had never seen their daddy?

There's at least one third generation calf, too, that's great-granddaughter to a test tube.

How can we expect contented cows while this sort of bizarre, unreal relationship exists? Mark my words, there'll be cow psychiatrists in every pasture if this goes on.

TROUBLE AHEAD

I probably wouldn't be so upset about this if I hadn't come across a recent article in The New Statesman and Nation' by an English dairy farmer named Nicholas Davenport. Nick sounds like a really decent cove. His article is titled "Cows Are So Human" and proves what I've suspected all along; that cows are pretty nice.

Nick gives a lot of examples of cows behaving like humans—or, at any rate, "like a bunch of women"—and describes among other things, how all the cows gather admiringly about a new mother and sometimes even instruct her in caring for the new calf.

But what particularly interested me in view of what I'd learned about artificial insemination was the part about cows and their relationship with bulls.

This gets pretty close to nature, but the simple fact is that cows admire bulls, are regular coquettes and, in Nick's words, "unpredictably feminine."

FRUSTRATION

The conclusion ought to be obvious, even to a city man. Deprived of what is a normal and even glandsome relationship, cows are bound to end up sooner or later with frustrations and their subsequent mental disorders.

I think it's only the fact that cows are, admittedly, slow to catch on to things that fool them. At the moment they are placidly waiting until the real thing comes along, but there's a limit to even a cow's patience.

If all you city folk wake up some morning and find your milk curdled, well, it serves you right.

Be-Brogued Budgie Bird Sought by Owner Murphy

By STANLEY BURKE
Bulletin Staff Writer

Shure and have any of yez been seein' a shamrock green budgie bird that'll be speakin' with an Irish brogue?

Sorra's the day and Sam Murphy can't be findin' his pet at all, at all, and he bein' lost since Wednesday last.

So if anyone is hearing a tiny voice away up in a tree, it might be a leprechaun or one of the other little people.

But then again now, it might be Mort Murphy.

Listen close and if you hear the little voice sayin' with a lovely Irish lilt, "Mort Murphy's a smart bird,"—well you know what to be doing. Give Sam a call right away for he's beside himself with worry.

And then again, Mort might be saying, "Mort wants his breakfast, so he does." After all and the poor things been three days away from his cage.

It all happened Wednesday last when Mort went out of doors from his home at 10604-127 street sitting on the shoulder of the baker. The little critter was caught by a gust of wind and that's the last that was seen of him.

So if anyone is findin' Mort be shure and call Sam Murphy right away. For he's wonderful fond of the little bird and if he got to thinkin' someone had stolen him—well—it might be that all the Murphy's would be comin' around with their shillelaghs.

Where You Are Always Sure of Quality

Fewer Traffic Accidents

We do not believe that a young man of Alderman W. Hawrelak's enterprise and capacity means exactly what he says when he tells an Edmonton audience that the education of drivers and pedestrians is the "only way" a grim increase in the traffic toll can be avoided this year.

We agree with Alderman Hawrelak that traffic education is a highly vital matter. But Alderman Hawrelak, progressive-minded as he is, knows as well as we do that the first step towards securing the minimization of the accident rate in Edmonton is an expert traffic survey that will build up a traffic system to reduce congestion, confusion and speeding in the wrong places and all those other factors which contribute to fatal and disastrous mishaps.

Alderman Hawrelak shows a fine grasp of Edmonton's traffic problems.

He points out that Edmonton's 1949 accident toll of 2,625 in which 49 persons were killed will likely be increased in 1950 because of the notable increase in motor vehicles in this city.

The number of cars in Edmonton has increased 42 percent over the past three years. The population increased nine percent last year alone, an increase nine times greater than the average for North American cities.

With more cars and more people and more suburban districts to be served, Edmonton's traffic system is almost exactly the same as it was 25 years ago.

No wonder 1949 saw 49 people killed in the streets and $7,125,000 worth of property damage done in traffic accidents.

Now with a traffic system, adjusted to 75,000 people, that is trying to serve a city of 150,000, it should be clear that the remedy must go somewhat deeper than education in traffic practices.

Education helps enormously. During the campaigns of the Edmonton Safety Council, the accident rate had been decreased by as much as one-third.

But obviously education alone will not effect those structural changes in the traffic system that must be made if congestion and confusion and wild driving are to be eliminated.

Edmonton has outgrown its traffic system, as it has outgrown so many other things, and the accident probability has increased 56 percent.

The engagement and improvement of the traffic system depend upon a professional traffic survey, as so many other cities have belatedly discovered.

A traffic survey would cost as little as $5,000.

That does not seem to be much, as Alderman Hawrelak would admit, beside the $1,125,000 traffic toll of 1949.

Business Of Sex Vastly Overplayed

Sex is something the good Lord thought up to perpetuate life, and has been fairly prevalent for some years now, and will probably continue for a considerable spell. It is my private idea that maybe we are overplaying it just a touch.

This does not mean that I am knocking sex as a commodity, for I am four-square in favor of love and marriage and motherhood, all of which have a direct connection with sex.

But it seems to me we handle it awesomely, as if we had just discovered it. This leads to confusion, strife and sometimes tragedy.

In recent years there has been a concerted attempt to second-guess everything from baseball to beanbag in terms of conflict, repressions and inadequacies.

You've got to admit that much of the time there is plenty of room for right in the argument. Also, as old Joe Ward said once, you will never succeed in making it unpopular with the people.

Too Much Lip-Smacking

But there is an awful lot of sly lip-smacking going on, especially since the Kinsey revelations. There is an awful lot of sneaky salaciousness being peddled under the mask of pseudo-scientific dignity, and in general a heavy preoccupation with a natural phenomenon that is not unknown even to the Hottentots.

The Freudian interpretation of human impulse and behavior has spearheaded this "great, broad emphasis on mating."

It has been helped along by the schools and magazines and the advertisements and the columns and the psychologists and the movies and the radio and television—to such a point that it now appears to be an industry rather than a function.

I am a guy who savors a rancid joke as well as the next fellow but when it comes at me in the guise of a sermon or a scientific expose it loses lustiness somehow.

Some separation of smoking-car anecdote from leg-show lecture seems necessary.

Knowledge Gets Around

Today's child gets a run-down on biology in his earliest years and would have shocked the Marquis de Sade. A certain amount of birds-and-bees is healthy enough, but not mandatory, because the knowledge has a way of getting around.

But teething on the Kinsey report seems a little ripe for a test. With the trend toward steeping little John and little Mary in amatory lore, they must be meeting maturity with a great load of conjecture and worry.

I do not believe it is necessary to burden a mere child with the intricacies of matrimony, homosexuality and other aberrations of the perpetuation process.

It is being done by too many parents who have harkened to transom-peepers, who have discovered that a basic fascination with reproduction is big business if you can find another sober hook to hang it on.

Hedged With Complications

The young bride and groom start off the adventure today with more technical exhortation than an atom-splitter. There are six sets of rules for everything from birth control to bacon burning.

If John drinks a couple of highballs, he is rassling with a basic sexual frustration. If Mary feels a little low and snaps at the cat, bingo! It is because she was rumpled at recess at the age of nine.

The last two female-written books I have read display a fascination with basic morality that make breathless literature, in terms of scrawled washroom messages, and certainly evince a reversal of what used to be called maidenly modesty. These ladies innocently appear to have discovered sex and they discover it with the heavy hand of a drunken drummer in a day coach. Point is, sex just ain't that new.

An Example in Religious Unity

Every Christian of every denomination or communion will note with interest and pleasure that the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Church of Canada occurs this coming Saturday.

On June 10, 1925, this great religious organization came into existence.

Since that day it has increased in solidarity and in membership until it ranks, in this year of 1950, as one of the great world forces of witness for Jesus Christ.

There are doctrinal differences between the United Church and other communions of the Christian Faith in Canada.

A discussion of these is not essential to the celebration of this memorable birthday.

What chiefly interests men and women of all communions is the fact that what began 25 years ago as a more or less timorous experiment in unity has grown to a gigantic and lasting exposition of that magnificent principle.

The Methodists and Presbyterians and Congregationalists who surrendered their denominational identity to participate in this great adventure looking towards the discovery of a common road to God demonstrated belief that denominational differences were infinitely less than denominational accord.

In short, they discovered that there was much less holding them apart than there was joining them together.

This early faith has been splendidly justified and the silver jubilee of the United Church is an encouraging exposition of the sometimes forgotten fact that the Gospel of Christ is an infinitely greater agent of amity than of dissension.

There is not a creed nor communion anywhere in the whole world of those who believe in our Lord as the Savior of men that does not subscribe fervently to the hope that somehow in some time will be effected the reunion of all Christendom.

The United Church has gallantly pointed the way.

It looks towards the fulfilment of the word of Christ:

"And other sheep I have which are not of this fold: them also must I bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd."

Air Force Day is Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, all Edmonton will wend its way towards the RCAF station at 118 avenue and 106 street where, between 1 and 5 p.m., the Royal Canadian Air Force will stage a special display for civilians.

The occasion is Air Force Day and the purpose is to acquaint the people of this city with some of the achievements of this magnificent force which won glory in two wars and in peacetime continues to increase its capacity for the defence of Canada.

There is no need to recite the accomplishments of the RCAF. Everyone is familiar with the part played by its members in the late global war.

In a little more than 30 years this organization has built itself up from a small experimental force, with more daring than science, to a highly efficient instrument of peace.

In this time it has acquired traditions and ideals and a technique as complete and high-principled as those of the much older branches of the armed forces.

In point of time, the Air Force is the baby among the fighting men of Canada. But it is a lusty and precocious child with which every Canadian will wish to be better acquainted.

The displays on Saturday will gratify that wish.

They will offer an opportunity for the people of Edmonton to demonstrate some of that keen pride they feel in a branch of defence in which Canada takes second place to no nation in the world.

Letters to the Editor

Remarkable Feat

Editor, Bulletin—In reading the Book of Enoch I came across the following interesting passage:

"Man was created exactly like the angels to the intent that he should continue righteous and pure, but one of the angels or satans instructed mankind in writing with ink and paper, and thereby many have sinned from eternity to eternity and until this day."

I wonder whether this passage relates to the columnists of the time of Enoch, or whether it was written in prophetic vein, depicting the scribes of our present era.

In the latter case it would be a remarkable feat of vision into the distant future.

Women Inventors

Editor, Bulletin.—How would you like a boomerang hat, so that if it blows off in the wind it's bound to return to you?

A weighty idea? But a much more useful invention than the atom bomb. Now, if only inventors were women all the little worries in a girl's day-to-day life —the splashed stockings and lost gloves—would be remedied.

Why can't men inventors be like Charles Rowley, the man who, 100 years ago, created the modern safety-pin.

The first thing they could remedy would be a woman's lapse of memory that makes her rush out of the house without a clean handkerchief, her lipstick, her gloves or her keys.

What about an invisible ray a few feet inside the front door? When you step into it a gramophone record is set in motion which chants at you: "Remembered your handkerchief, keys, lipstick, etc?"

Splashed stockings can spoil the whole day for a woman who wants to look smart.

Can't somebody discover a chemical that beats off drops of mud or dissolves them into nothing as soon as they touch the stockings?

ADELINE.

Red Dean

Editor, Bulletin: One of your letter correspondents (John Milner, Fallis, Alta.), writes an original letter not only on the personality of the so-called 'Red Dean' but, also, on his relationship to the Christian ecclesiastical community from which his official authority stems.

This reader was much impressed by your correspondent's general thought and especially his query: "Why is it, I ask you, that the Dean of just one English cathedral is assumed to be any more reliable as an authority about world affairs than anybody else?"

The following item in my home paper quotes from a booklet by the Dean, written back in 1944 on "Magic from the Soil" in the U.S.S.R.: "The fruits of all this labor were exhibited at the great Agricultural Show in Moscow in 1939, when Yefremov sowed his famous plot of wheat. Yefremov and his companions had obtained a harvest-yield unknown before in history: eight tons per acre. They believe they can produce thirteen tons per acre . . ."

As your wheat-conscious readers hardly need reminding, the long-term average yield on the prairies is about ½ a ton (about 16.3 bus.) per acre. So far as my reading guides me, the equivalent yield figure for Russian wheatfields is under 12 bus. to the acre—about 700 lbs!

In the circumstances, therefore, the above reference to "eight" and "thirteen" tons per acre is revealing? So much for the 'Red Dean' as a cereal authority!

High Prices

Editor, Bulletin—Women complain that they have to pay high prices for greens out of season and that they don't know what the butcher is giving them.

My mother taught me to buy runner beans when they are cheap and to put them in salt. She also taught me about meat, so that I know whether I am buying airloin, back ribs or top ribs and to know whether meat is imported or not.

If one chooses one's butcher as carefully as one chooses one's husband, there is no need for the complaints one hears nowadays.

HOUSEWIFE.

Naughty Dog

Editor, Bulletin: Regarding the article carried in today's edition, of the Labrador pup doing such a wonderful job of retrieving.

I gather from this article that this dog is allowed to run at large in the city limits. Being a regular subscriber to both the Bulletin and the dog tax in Edmonton, I feel I am justified in taking exception to all the publicity given this dog, which has done nothing more than make a nuisance of himself.

Outrageous Rents

Editor, Bulletin—I was enjoying your editorial page until I got to the article by Harold L. Weir.

I should like to say, in reference to his "too common American view that the end and purpose of all life is the acquisition of wealth," that apparently that is what most Canadians things of us Americans.

When we first arrived all rents were hiked to an outrageous price, because "you're an American." Two small rooms without water or bath, a bed and iron cot and old coal stove for $40.00 a month, in a town that had houses to rent for $10.00 a month. Ha!

Also, when I hear that motto, "be kind to the tourists as they'll spend more American dollars," or words to that effect, that makes me wonder who has the "too common view that the end and purpose of all life is the acquisition of wealth."

Middle class people like us have families to raise and provide for on "rainy days" and we'll hold on to what we struggle for same as you do. Sure, there are people like those Mr. Weir suggests, but the average good old American ees to church, helps his neighbor, raises good law abiding children and prays for a seat on the right hand of the good Lord on getting his ticket to Heaven!

Brotherhood Program

Editor, Bulletin—To promote a better understanding of Indian problems, the Canadian National Refugee Committee has launched a brotherhood program.

The keynote is "how can I know my Indian brother?" It is hoped before the year has ended every individual and organization will have helped to give a practical application of the Golden Rule.

Purblind Landlords

Editor, Bulletin—I would like to suggest a school for landlords (and, of course, landladies) where purblind ones could learn that it seldom pays to push good tenants around. You only get in the kind that stage wild parties.

It is the old fable over again about the greedy dog that saw in the water the magnified reflection of the bone in his mouth and dropped the substance to grab the shadow!

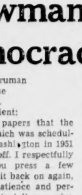
PITCHING HORSESHOES By Billy Rose

Showman Rose Would Sell Democracy By Showmanship

Hon. Harry S. Truman
The White House
Washington, D.C.
Dear Mr. President:

I see by the papers that the Freedom Train which was scheduled to open in Washington in 1951 has been called off. I respectfully suggest that you press a few buttons and call it back on again, and with your patience and permission I'd like to tell you why.

As this lopsided eight-ball of a planet currently shapes up, about the only thing worth talking about is freedom, or the lack of it, and as you yourself have repeatedly pointed out in your speeches, our people ought to know what they're talking about when the subject comes up.



Billy Rose

Well, what's the best way to demonstrate that there's still plenty of life in the old liberties? Fastidious facts and figures? Cliche-studded press releases? Hah-rah-rah editorials?

Should Have Some Of Our Own

No, Mr. President, not in this day and age. As I see it, the best way to stand off the sugar-coated strychnine being handed out by the kids in the Kremlin is to hand out a few lollypops of our own, and I can't think of a better place to do it than a 200-acre fairground within eyeshot of the Lincoln Memorial.

Imagine, what would such a shindig actually accomplish? Not much, Sir. If it were just a run-of-the-Flushing-meadows type of fair. But it would do a potent plenty if it were a mammoth, hit-'em-in-all-five-senses whoopty-do, in which everything from spectacle to sideshow were built around one simple theme: The Freer the Enterprise, the More Enterprising the Freeman.

Once and for all, let's concretize in terms of daily living and loving how well our Joe Doakses are doing compared with the Josef Dokczes in the Iron Curtain countries.

For example, in the exhibit area let our big auto outfits trot out their cars alongside a few Russian cars, and then let them dramatize how many man-hours of work it takes to make one—and, even more important, own one.

Let the Unions Also Have Place

And alongside the big General Motors building, let's have an even bigger UAW building in which Walter Reuther can dramatically document how much better off his men are in terms of union contracts, working conditions and pension plans than the auto workers in the various Commielands.

Once and for all, let's pull out all the stops and compare our homes, schools and churches with theirs. Let's exhibit an American voting booth with a curtain on the door, and next to it a Russian voting booth with an NKVD man where the curtain ought to be.

In short, let's give the Pinkos the lumps they've been asking for and make it clear as the noon on Jimmy Durante's face that there's no freedom unless everybody can exercise his taste and tonsils as he sees fit.

Let's even show them up on the midway. Instead of the usual Chamber of Horrors, let's restage the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, and instead of the old-hat Ubangi sideshow, let the populace take a peek at a Siberian slave labor camp.

With no pomp but plenty of documented circumstance, one big lesson is a cinch to emerge from the fair I envision: That "degenerate democracy" still provides the bestest for the mostest; that our way of life has got what it takes, and it would be downright silly to let the Commies take what we've got.

Opportune Time 1952

Of course, Mr. President, there isn't a chance of getting such a fair on by next year, but if the right words were dropped into the right ears, pronto, there's no reason why the grand opening couldn't be set for '52. And, according to my astrologist, that would be an auspicious year for a fair, seeing as how around that time a certain Party will be doing its darnedest to convince the voters that it has a special talent for making democracy work.

If you think well enough of this notion to get behind it, Sir, I'll be glad to pitch in and help —whether it's making policy or pink lemonade. Of course, I wouldn't do it for free. My fee would have to be the same as I'm getting as Advisory Director to the California World Progress Exposition which will be held in San Diego in '53—a one-pound can of good smoking tobacco.

Respectively,
Billy Rose

THE QUESTION: What are you complaining about?

M. ZAMORA W. JOHNS A. WATSON TED WEST I. WOLFF N. McBETH

MABEL ZAMORA, 12807-86 street, sales clerk, Who me? Well right now my feet hurt. They always ache when it gets too hot, and that's usually all summer long. Sure wish it would get a little cooler.

TED WEST, 8737-117 street, manager: Right now I'm hungry. As a matter of fact I'm always hungry.

ARMADA WATSON, 10224-105 street, sales clerk: It's those men that have been tearing up the sidewalk in front of the store with the machines that make so much noise you can't even hear yourself think. Can't they use mufflers or something?

NORMAN McBETH, 11120-69 avenue, real estate: I'm the guy that has no complaints. I think we live in one of the best cities in the best province in the best country in the world. I'm happy.

WALTER JOHNS, 10018-81 street, advertising salesman: Women drivers, because most of them don't seem to know what they're going to do next. I'd say that about 75 per cent of Edmonton's women drivers are not very sane.

IRENE WOLFF, 9960-101 street, saleslerk: What, just one little complaint? I've got hundreds. This morning it was the car. Mine is the type that never starts. And when I did get it started I accidentally ripped a new pair or nylons.

Taxes

When a South African native was told he had to be taxed because his government, like a father, protected him from enemies, cared for him when he was sick, fed him when he was hungry, and educated him, and for these reasons needed money, the native said:

"Yes, I understand. It is like this: I have a dog, and the dog is hungry. He comes to me and begs for food.

"I say to him, 'My dear faithful dog, I see you are very hungry. I am sorry for you. I shall give you meat.'

"I then take a knife, cut off the dog's tail, give it to him, and say: 'Here, my faithful dog, be nourished by this nice piece of meat.'"

New York, Rio Settings For Gay Musical Film

One of the gayest musicals ever to come out of Hollywood, "Nancy Goes to Rio," opens Friday at the Capitol Theatre.

The technicolored movie starring Jane Powell and Ann Southern sets against a background of romantic Rio and exciting backstage New York.

The story moves at a tuneful pace from one continent to the other on a plot which tells of a teen-ager who "falls in love with love."

THE PLOT

Jane Powell plays the part of a talented young singer who follows her actress mother, Ann Southern, to Rio and gets a leading role in a South American playwright's drama, unwittingly snatching the role from her mother, who had been chosen to play the part.

Aboard ship on her way to Rio, Jane is led to believe that Barry Sullivan is in love with her, and upon arrival at Rio Barry is forced into shotgun marriage by her grandparents.

With the help of Carmen Miranda, his secretary, the amusing affair is straightened out, with Barry finding romance with Ann Southern and Nancy returning to her own-age sweetheart, Scotty Beckett.

Woman Must Pay Insurance

VICTORIA, B.C., June 9.—(CP)—The city woman who Wednesday elected to serve three days in jail rather than comply with an order to pay her B.C. hospital insurance premium immediately, will still have the payment to make when she is released.

Hospital insurance officers have three ways of collecting.

If the woman, Judith Stoddart of this city, is employed, they can order her employer to deduct the premium payment of $10.50 from her wages.

If she is not working, they can either issue a certificate of the commissioner, compelling her to pay in much the same way as a court order, or they can take her into small debts court.

Miss Stoddart was fined $5.

Permits Near $15,500,000

City building permits continue their climb toward new all-time highs.

A group of commercial buildings yesterday sent the year's total to near the $15,500,000 mark.

Firestone Tire Company took a $46,000 permit for a warehouse at 12000 Kingsway.

Parkhill Bedding was granted a permit for a $35,000 warehouse at 11509-119 street.

William Teibe received approval of plans for a $35,000 garage and storage building at 10722-101 street.

And the Alberta government was given a permit for $27,000 concrete foundations for the proposed $600,000 Land Titles building at 10004-102A avenue.

'Baldies' Given Renewed Hope

Hollywood Beautician Claims Her Machine Will Grow Hair

By Virginia MacPherson
Exclusive to The Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, June 9.—(UP)—A gal who's been growing hair on balding movie romeos unveiled a new machine today that, she swears, will do the job in 20 minutes.

"It really will," Patricia Stenz said. "It grows hair on bald heads so fast you can almost hear 'em pop out!"

Word had gotten around that Miss Stenz had something pretty sensational in her swanky Vine Street salon-for-men-only. We had to wade through a sea of shiny-topped males with hope in their hearts to get a peek at this "miracle machine."

JUNIOR ATOM SMASHER

It looks a little like a junior atom-smasher with all its wires and chrome strips and gadgets and spouting steam jets.

But she doesn't mind explaining how it turns baldies into happy men with hair.

"It sends out a misty spray of oxygen, ozone, and ultra-violet ray," she said. "This gets right down in the scalp and open all the pores that have been keeping the hairs from getting out.

OUT COME HAIRS

"Once the pores are open—boom! Out come the hairs. And long ones, too. I'm so excited about it! It's the darndest thing I ever saw!"

Miss Stenz is a vivacious little redhead. She is also an enthusiastic salesman. We peered at half a dozen "ozoned" scalps and darned if it didn't look like there were long hairs growing where there'd been blank spots 20 minutes before.

(One of those blank spots belonged to our old man, and if this gadget does all Miss Stenz proclaims it will, we'll love her forever.)

JUST LIKE GARDEN

"Once we get 'em out," she went on, "we feed 'em. Growing hair is just like growing a garden. You have to give your plants oxygen and food or they'll die on you.

"My food solution is a mixture of hormones, minerals, vitamins, glandular elements, and a mild irritant. This is to start the normal pulsating process.

"It's very important to keep pulsating. That's what keeps the hair growing."

But it's expensive to be beautiful fellas. You have to shell out five bucks per treatment, plus about $16 for the Stenz kit of hair "food."

Quebec Youth To Be Hanged

VALLEYFIELD, Que., June 9.—(CP)—Cervin Patenaud, 19, of nearby Huntingdon, was convicted of murder yesterday and sentenced to be hanged August 25.

He will be hanged the same day as his companion, Kenneth Bevin, 18, also convicted last week of the hammer slaying last Dec. 11 of Lucien Brunette, Huntingdon taxi driver, in a robbery attempt.

Both youths now are serving a four-year sentence for robbing the Canadian National bank at Ormastown of $1,400 the day after they murdered Brunette.

Court 'Loses Face'

HONG KONG—(UP) — Magistrate W. H. Latimer reported that a fountain pen and cigarette case were stolen from his office in the supreme court building. The report recalled Hong Kong's most notorious theft, which still makes judges blush. During a supreme court session, two men dressed in overalls entered the courtroom, put a ladder against the wall and took down the clock. It has never been seen since.

Named By China

PRAGUE, June 9.—(Reuters)—Communist China has appointed Gen. Tan Si-Lin as ambassador to Czechoslovakia, the official news agency reported.

Scores Two Birdies

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Earl Crouse registered two birdies on the same hole while golfing. His drive killed a robin in flight before Crouse collected a birdie of three.

Tree-Seedlings Handed Out To Children

VANCOUVER, B.C.—(BUP)—British Columbia forestry department officials have hit on a new idea to promote interest in the care and preservation of their vast lumber lands.

More than 5,000 tree seedlings were distributed amongst B.C. children by the western branch of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, plus an illustrated certificate with each seedling giving vital statistics on tree growth in the province.

"All children receiving the seedlings have been quick to express their delight," said Leander Manley, secretary of the CPPA.

Dimes Buy Car

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. —(UP)—Joseph Koslosky, grocer, traded in his old car and $1,405 in dimes for a new automobile here. The dimes, saved over a ten-year-period, filled ten quart buckets.

OIL

Jumping Pound Gas Wanted By Calgary

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

The Shell Oil Company is completing negotiations with the Calgary Gas Company whereby the gas company will buy 20,000,000 cubic feet of Jumping Pound gas daily for use in the Calgary and Lethbridge system.

While neither the officials of Shell or Canadian Western have announced the plan as yet it was reported by Faison Dixon, president of the North West Natural Gas Company in the hearing before the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board this morning.

Mr. Dixon said that the Shell Oil Company would build a plant at Jumping Pound twenty-five miles west of Calgary capable of processing about three times the requirements of the Canadian Western Natural Gas Company or about sixty million cubic feet a day.

ABOVE ALTA. NEEDS

This means that Shell will have forty million cubic feet per day above Alberta requirements and therefore available for export. Observers in Calgary believe that Shell must be convinced that export will go through in order to justify the large capital outlay required for such a plant.

Mr. Dixon said that his company had planned to bring gas from the Edmonton area for use in Calgary and take all the Jumping Pound gas for export now that Calgary would use twenty million cubic feet of Jumping Pound gas a day his plan would have to be revised.

The effect of the Shell agreement with Canadian Western will actually be a reduction of the amount of gas sold in Turner Valley.

★ ★ ★

Shell B.A. Whitelaw No. 1, 35 miles west of Peace River has struck heavy crude after penetrating a section of about 300 feet of gas saturated sand believed to be of Triassic age.

Testing 3,855 to 3,905 feet a rise of 2910 feet of oil was recorded on a 90 minute test. The oil was thought to be about 15 gravity a little higher than most of the Lloydminster crude but of generally comparable nature.

MAJOR DISCOVERY

Apparently a major gas discovery already, the well is aimed principally at Devonian oil production. Indications so far could hardly be better.

Meanwhile another wildcat, Imperial Superior Joseph Lake, has ended up in D-2 with salt water at 4,400 feet.

★ ★ ★

The team comprising Leduc Calmar Oil Company, of Calgary, the P.C.M. Syndicate, of Vancouver and Inland Developments of Washington State established a one-half mile southeast Leduc extension with its Leduc Calmar-P.C.M.-Inland Empire No. 1 Thursday.

The new oilwell, half a mile southeast of a Leduc Calmar well completed early this spring, flowed oil to the surface in an hour during a test of the D2 interval 5,250 to 5,260 feet. A gas flow of 290,000 cubic feet daily accompanied the oil.

The first test of the D2 at the new success, from 5,205 to 5,225 feet, gave gas at the rate of 400,000 cubic feet daily plus 480 feet of oil in the pipe. Subsequent tests, up to the one which flowed oil also gave both oil and gas.

PLANS BEING MADE

Plans are now being made to drill a west offset to the well.

The Washington State group, who put up the cost of drilling the well, will receive 62 percent of net proceeds, the P.C.M. Syndicate will have a 25 percent interest. Leduc Calmar, who secured the land under farmout from Imperial Oil, has 10 percent and other interests hold three percent. Imperial will receive 5,000 barrels of oil from each D2 producer under the farmout agreement.

Britain Enters Contract To Buy Oil For Sterling

LONDON, June 9.—(AP)—Britain announced last night a new agreement with the Standard Oil Company (N.J.) and Socony-Vacuum Oil Company for the marketing of Iraq oil for sterling.

The two American companies between them own 23.7 per cent of the Iraq Petroleum Company. The agreement affects their share of the oil the Iraq company produces.

"In the future, they will make their sales to the sterling area through a British subsidiary company," a ministry of fuel and power statement said in announcing the agreement.

"They also will be permitted to pay in sterling to the Iraq Petroleum Company for oil sold outside the sterling area.

"This will enable them to sell some of this oil outside the sterling area for sterling instead of dollars."

SAVES DOLLARS

The agreement apparently gives the sterling area more oil at less cost in scarce dollars.

In return the two American companies will be able to compete with British companies outside the sterling area by selling some oil for sterling instead of dollars.

Announcement said the agreement followed a British government policy of "dealing with the difficulties of individual American oil companies in a manner compatible with their general objective of reducing the dollar drain on oil wherever possible."

About one fourth of the $1,600,000,000 spent by the sterling area annually has been for oil and petroleum products.

PYLTONE will please you, too, or your money back. $1.75 at your druggist's.

THE CIGAR OF CONNOISSEURS

FINISHING TOUCHES have been made to the Clarke Building, fine improvement to 102 street shopping area. Attractive building provides close to 30,000 square feet of space for specialty shops, business offices. Ground floor shops include the Sports Inn, Cochlan's Shoes, A. E. Esch and Company, Rudy the Tailor, Duncan's Ladywear. Housed on modernistic second floor are Edmonton offices of Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, offices of Searight and Rimstad. Clarke Building Adds New Touch to Business Area

Mr. Clarke, Jr., believes this particular section of 102 street will eventually become a solid facade of smartly-finished specialty shops and will cater for the city's expanding population.

Of two-storey construction with a full basement, the Clarke Building, 10150 102 street, was designed by Architect Neil G. McKernan and built by Christensen and Macdonald, general contractors.

PARKING AREA

The 100 ft. by 20 ft. establishment, constructed of reinforced concrete and brick, is fireproof.

The building provides 17,000 square feet of office space and 12,000 square feet of store space. A large parking area is situated at the rear of the building.

Stores and offices have been finished in a variety of color combinations to suit the individual tastes of the occupants.

Quality lino flooring, recessed lighting fixtures and built-in air conditioning are other interior features.

Lower walls of the stairways are finished with Masonite piling. Natural-finishing wood is also prevalent in many places.

Ground and upper floors are constructed in such a way as to ensure high fireproof rating. An automatic sprinkler system is installed in the basement.

Street level exterior is of brick, with wide ledges built under each store window.

Five stores are situated on the ground floor. They are Sports Inn, which accommodates Cochlan's Shoes, A. H. Esch and Company, Ltd., Rudy the Tailor and Duncan's Ladywear.

Upper floor is leased to Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co., with a small section housing Searight and Rimstad, general insurance. basement space accommodates R. L. M. Hart Agencies, Apex Agencies, James M. Aird, optometrist, and Western Airlines.

Optometrist Born in City

Occupying offices in the basement of the new Clarke Building is Edmonton born optometrist, James M. Aird.

Mr. Aird attended the University of Toronto and the College of Optometry in Ont.

Graduating in 1945 he subsequently acquired the practice of R. H. Houston, in the Rialto building.

One of the oldest in the city, this practice was established in 1912.

Mr. Aird is occupant of three well-lighted, air conditioned offices.

An estimated 300,000 people, among them thousands of Holy Year pilgrims from many countries, thronged the vast Piazza before the world's biggest church.

The bronze bells of St. Peter's rang and hymns rose from thousands of throats as the pontiff, borne on a special carrier, emerged from the central door of the Basilica.

Hart Agencies, Mutual, Growing

Edmonton Firm Marks Fifth Move Within Nine Years

Occupying twice the amount of space as in their former offices are R. L. M. Hart Agencies, now situated in the basement of the new Clarke Building.

Provincial representatives of the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, the agencies have progressed steadily in the past nine years.

Modern lighting, air-conditioning and pastel coloring make the spacious new offices highly attractive.

Provincial manager of the Mutual Health Benefit organization, R. L. M. Hart, has for his assistant manager T. W. Lockhart. Office manager is D. H. Sinclair and George Zimmer is manager of the claims department.

STEADY GROWTH

It is not yet quite nine years since "Ron" Hart entered the insurance picture in Edmonton. On July 2, 1941, he took this step. It was a very small office and as his business and staff grew, Mr. Hart was forced to find new quarters. This happened four times, although these moves were all within the Tegler Building.

R. L. M. Hart Agency started off with a part-time girl. Now they have a staff of 15 with a branch office in Calgary and agency representation throughout the entire province. There is a total active agency force of more than 25.

R. L. M. Hart has been a resident of Alberta for many years and a resident of Edmonton since 1932. Prior to that his activities were in Calgary and Lethbridge.

The move to 10150-102 street, the Clarke Building, will give R. L. M. Hart Agencies room for expansion. In keeping with modern business practice the lights are all recessed, the offices are air conditioned. Another feature is the fact that there is a street entrance directly into the new Mutual Benefit offices.

Mr. Hart is provincial manager for the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association.

ALL CANADA

It was in June, 1949, that Mutual Benefit moved to new headquarters in Toronto. These headquarters are in their own building on Toronto's famed University avenue and consist of some 20,000 square feet of occupiable floor space, spread over three floors.

Mutual Benefit entered the Canadian field in 1934. At that time their sole Canadian representation was one small suite of offices in the Dominion Bank Building, Toronto. From that one office Mutual Benefit has expanded from coast to coast, with offices in all principal cities.

New Office For Insurance

The Edmonton branch of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company has taken over the bulk of the second floor space in the new Clarke Building.

The life department of the company is housed there, leaving the former office at the Bank of Commerce for the mortgage department.

The ultra-modern office space, which has been designed to give the maximum service to customers and provide best of working conditions for the efficient staff, exemplifies the company's faith in the future of Alberta, and Edmonton in particular.

SPACIOUS

The offices are spacious and unusually bright with wide window areas. The color scheme is attractive and eye-soothing, making them some of the most desirable in the city.

Space is provided for an agents' room, clients' room, and private offices for key members of the staff.

Private office of manager, W. P. Wensley, is dignified and friendly with walls in burgundy and turquoise.

All the ceilings are finished in acoustic plaster.

In the past four years the company's business has increased five fold. Mr. Wensley expects more expansion.

Noted Golfer Expanding in Business World

Everything for the sportsman is available at the Sports Inn on ground floor of the new Clarke Building.

The spaciousness of the well-lit store allows full display of the firm's stock.

Golfing enthusiasts are well cared for. A selected stock of clubs, bags, balls and other gear is available.

Originator and proprietor of the Sports Inn and noted amateur golfer, Ted West, has extended a genial welcome to all sportsmen and sportswomen.

His new store is double the size of the former shop.

Stockholm Reached

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 9.—(CP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived here yesterday from Oslo, for a four-day visit. She was accompanied by her son, Elliott, and his two children.

16 Salesladies Are Kept Busy In Duncan Shop

A staff of sixteen experienced sales clerks are assisting in the Duncan's Ladywear Shop in the new Clarke Building.

Mrs. Barbara E. Moore, seven years in the gown business, ensures that personal attention is paid to each customer, to the new spacious, modern store.

Extremely well lighted by recessed lighting fixtures and large windows, the store will make shopping a pleasure for many Edmontonians.

Many well-known brands of garments are stocked by Mrs. Moore.

BONN, Germany, June 9—(Reuters)—A committee of West German parliament has approved a Christian Democratic motion asking the government to ban the sale of war toys in West Germany.

Mr. Searight at one time was with Calgary Stampeders. He is president of the Touchdown Club.

B.C. Woodworkers' Strike Looms After Vote Taken

By Knowlton Nash
Special to The Bulletin

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 9—(BUP)—Strike orders went out today to 32,000 coastal woodworkers involved in a wage-hour dispute that could throw a wrench in British Columbia's economy.

Stewart Alsbury, British Columbia district representative of the CIO Internation Woodworkers of America, said final returns from a government-supervised strike vote taken yesterday showed 75 per cent of the union's members had voted to down tools June 15.

The union demanded a general 17-cent hourly pay raise, a union shop and a five-day, 40-hour week from 163 coastal logging operators who earn 40 cents of every productive dollar in the province. It turned down a conciliation board's recommendation that it take less.

COMPANIES SILENT

The companies declined any comment that might be construed as controversial in hopes of a last-minute agreement that would keep production rolling in mills and factories spotted throughout Vancouver, New Westminster, on Vancouver Island and in the Queen Charlotties.

But a spokesman indicated they would not readily step down from their stand which prompted the strike vote.

STICK TO RULING

R. V. Stuart, head of Forest Industrial Relations which represents the employers, said they would stick to a conciliation board ruling which offered loggers nine-cent hourly increases, would give cooks and bunkhouse workers a 5½ cent raise, and give their union a "maintenance of membership" clause in its contract.

Government officials were reluctant to comment for the record on the strike's potential effect. But they said privately it was one of the worst things that could happen in the province.

Its effect would be felt in several ways, they said. Not the least was the fact that an unusually bitter winter already had caused the mills to fall well behind production schedules since many were snowed in and others had their heating systems frozen.

LONDON—(CP)—Britain's postal reform league is urging that a penny post for letters posted before 1 p.m. be installed.

Rates Delay Turned Down By Dominion

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Cabinet has rejected a request from seven provinces for a stay in putting the latest freight-rate increase into effect, Prime Minister St. Laurent today informed the Commons. The increase goes into operation June 16.

The prime minister tabled letters to provincial premiers declaring the government feels it should not interfere with the 3.4 per cent increase, at least until it has heard a formal appeal by the provinces against the whole 1949-50 series of rate increases.

Pending the appeal, Mr. St. Laurent said, the government should not assume that the Board of Transport Commissioners was wrong in finding that the railways needed more revenue.

If the railways were to get additional revenue, it had to come either from users of rail service or the public treasury.

The prime minister added he felt sure the provinces were not suggesting that at this time the additional revenue should come from the treasury.

Informed of the Ottawa decision, Premier Manning said in Edmonton today that he had "no comment to make."

John C. Christie Dies at Esther

ESTHER, June 9—Service for Esther pioneer, John Colin Christie who died last Wednesday in Consort, was held last Saturday in Consort United Church.

The 72-year-old pioneer arrived in Esther district in 1911 where he filed on a homestead, which was his permanent home for 39 years.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, one in Consort and the other in Edmonton, and one brother at Ottawa.

FUR TRAIL FOLLOWED BY CANOE

WHITECOURT, June 9—Whitecourt was visited Wednesday by John W. Beard, Portland, Oregon who is on his way by canoe to Riviere du Loup, following the old Hudson's Bay Fur Trail.

A retired Presbyterian minister, he is an experienced traveller and author.

With his youthful companion Joe Kirkwood, the chaplain left Jasper last Friday. He expects to reach his journey's end by Sept. 30.

Three-Cent Egg Boost Pushes Up Living Cost

Cost of living has taken another boost in Edmonton.

Eggs went up three cents a dozen retail for grade A's.

Beef and pork prices which have already advanced five to 10 cents a pound within the past few weeks were reported due for another increase within the next few days.

The rich American market which can afford to pay more for beef cattle is playing havoc with the Canadian buyer, said W. B. Noak, city retailer.

Prices, on dressed beef and sides advanced one and a half cents with carcases advancing 50 cents a hundred during the past week.

Pork advanced three cents per pound in the same period. Smoked meats have increased an average of five cents per pound with a further jump predicted.

Shoppers are "meat hungry", bu; buying today is reminiscent of the hungry thirties when the trend was toward the cheaper cuts. The same is true today, said Mr. Noak.

"As long as there is free export of cattle to the U.S. market, Canadian buyers will suffer".

One solution to high prices, dealers said would be imposition of a government quota of export of beef cattle. Supply the Canadian market first then if there are any over they could be exported.

As soon as cattle are available here, then prices will drop. At present they are too far out of line for the consumer's pocket book.

Prices which usually drop when grass fed cattle hit the market later in June are not expected to drop this year until September if the demand from the U.S. market continues at its present level.

Police Brutality Probe Report 3 Weeks Away

Edmonton's probe into charges of police brutality concluded at 1 p.m. Thursday, after three all-morning sittings.

But it will be three weeks before a transcript of the evidence is available, and city commissioners will then have to study it carefully before making a statement.

This was announced last night by Mayor Sid Parsons.

He said a copy of the findings will go to the attorney-general's department.

The "closed court" investigation was held before city commissioners to determine the truth of allegations by Hong Suey Chin that he was struck by Detective Inspector Bert Petheram during questioning.

Chin was recently acquitted of a charge of murdering Sam Kee, Edmonton greenhouse operator.

Commissioners also probed charges by Joseph Gilbert, under sentence of death for the slaying of Kee, that he also had been "beaten up" by police.

POLICE QUESTIONED

Asked last night why the probe was held in camera, Mayor Parsons said, "That form of enquiry was agreed to by the attorney-general's department."

All police officers involved in the Kee murder case were questioned individually, under oath, by commissioners, Assistant City Solicitor Alan Macdonald, W. J. Shortreed, KC, crown prosecutor, and John Hart, representing the attorney-general's department.

Five Killed, 15 Hurt In Explosives Blast

MANILA, P.I., June 9 — (UP) — Five persons are killed and 15 injured today when a box of explosives went off in a home in the Palomar slum district. Police said Oscar de la Cruz, 35, his daughter and three others were killed in a blast after De la Cruz brought the box home with him.

Army Lead Rejections For Forces

OTTAWA, June 9—(CP)—About 31 per cent of the Canadian examined for military service during the Second World War were rejected through failure to meet required physical standards, the Defence Department said today.

In a summary of rejections for physical reasons, the Department said Army rejections between Jan. 1, 1941 and Dec. 41, 1944 totalled 262,830 or 35.5 per cent of all applicants. Between Sept. 1, 1939, and Sept. 30, 1945, the Navy rejected 11,509 persons or 10.1 per cent of all applicants, while the Air Force turned down 18.5 per cent—46,581—between Aug. 1, 1941 and July 31, 1944.

NOT AVAILABLE

The Department said that complete statistics for the three services for the full period of the war are not available.

The higher Army percentage, said the department, arose to a large extent from the fact entries to the Navy and Air Force were voluntary whereas the Army had to classify not only volunteers but all personnel called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act.

In addition to initial rejections, the summary showed that 9.1 per cent of those examined and accepted for the three services were later found to be unfit for service for all physical reasons including battle injuries. Rejections by service were: Army, 105,201; Air Force, 18,021; Navy, 5,833.

Sask. Oil Search Gathers Momentum

Companies Lease 5,000,000 Acres In Province's North

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 9.—(CP)—Oil exploration in northern Saskatchewan is gathering momentum as drilling companies enter the area.

A survey yesterday indicated that more than 5,000,000 acres of land within about a 150-mile radius of Prince Albert have been leased by oil companies.

J. W. Churchman, assistant deputy minister of natural resources, said in an interview that the increasing interest in oil in that area is a result of preliminary survey work last year.

ACTUAL DRILLING

"They are doing actual drilling to prove the information they got last year from geophysical surveys," he said.

Asked whether oil might be discovered here, Mr. Churchman said: "Oil companies don't usually drill unless they have some sort of evidence."

Several truckloads of drilling equipment passed through Prince Albert yesterday en route to Gronlid, where the Hudson Bay Oil and Gas Company will drill.

CARLOAD OF PIPE

Reports from Hudson Bay said Phillip's Petroleum Company received a carload of drilling pipe for their test holes in the Fir River area, 16 miles north of Hudson Bay.

Provincial government stratographic survey, too, is opening again this year in the Big River country. The government, however, is drilling only for stratographic information along the southern edge of the pre-Cambrian shield.

Last year, when the government first launched the exploration program, test holes in the Big River region hit gas showing at 750 feet.

About 40 holdings have been leased from the provincial government by various oil companies and legal officials from oil companies.

HBC AT GRONILD

The Hudson Bay Oil and Gas Company, which soon will start drilling in the Gronild area, holds a total of 360,000 acres southeast of Prince Albert. The company has seven holdings.

National Petroleum Limited has six holdings south of Prince Albert totalling 493,000 acres. Directly north of Prince Albert, R. E. Pickerel holds petroleum and natural gas permits for more than 30,000 acres.

The ever-widening search for oil now has reached the Sfrong Pine, Nipawin, Hudson Bay, Blaine Lake, Crooked River, Helene Lake and Battleford areas.

Mrs. Roosevelt Pays Visit To Sweden's King

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 9 — (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt paid a short visit to ailing 92-year-old King Gustaf at his Drottningholm summer residence yesterday.

The king sat in a wheel chair while chatting with the widow of the late American president, while a dozen press photographers and newsreel cameramen recorded their meeting.

Afterward, Mrs. Roosevelt, son Elliott and his children Ruth and Elliott, Jr., had tea with Princess Sibyla in another room of the 17th century castle just outside Stockholm.

Drew Accuses Eldorado Group Of Unloading Stocks Cheaply

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said yesterday that some 2,000,000 shares of El Bonanza stock sold by the government-controlled Eldorado Company for $25,000 had an unlisted stock market value of about $315,000.

He told the public accounts committee of the Commons that El Bonanza stock now was being traded as an unlisted stock at between 13 and 15 cents a share. Thus, he said, the 2,222,000 shares sold by the Eldorado Mining and Refining Company last December was worth in the vicinity of $315,000.

David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina) said it was not fair to "leave an unfair impression" because the unlisted market was a "made" market. Mr. Drew said the stock was worth only a cent last December and now was worth between 13 and 15 cents a share and there was trading in it.

W. J. Bennett, president of Eldorado, told the committee that when Eldorado was expropriated, the "El Bonanza stock was shown on its books as worth $15,000. After an appraisal value of the holdings was written down to $1.

Church Demands Action By Gov't

MONTREAL, June 9 — (CP) — A resolution passed by a United Church conference yesterday called for provincial government action in connection with a disturbance last April 12 at Shawinigan Falls.

The resolution came from the social service and evangelism committee of the Montreal and Ottawa conference of the United Church and recommended if the province doesn't act by Sept. 1, the Church's general council should make representation to both the federal and Quebec provincial governments.

The committee's action, announced by Rev. R. A. Mitchell of Avranmore United church, Ottawa, said such steps were needed to "maintain freedom of worship."

The disturbance at Shawinigan Falls arose when a crowd attacked a meeting place of the Christian Brothers' sect. No arrests were made.

Gov't Anxiously Awaits Operation Cupid End

By John E. Bird
Special to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, June 9.—(BUP)—The government waited for an apparently willing couple to say their "I do's" today so Eskimos could learn mysteries of the three R's and how to brush their teeth.

Officials of the resources and development department said they'd be happy and have a lot less on their collective minds when operation cupid ended. Unless plans go wrong that will happen July 1.

Therein hangs a tale. It goes back a week or so ago to the time the department announced it wanted a teacher for a new school at Coppermine in the Northwest Territories, and a nurse to operate in conjunction with the school.

HAD TO BE MARRIED

The teacher and nurse had to be married. And because Coppermine is located in the back of beyond—about 1,500 miles north of Edmonton, Alta.—the couple had to have more than the usual strain of pioneer blood in their veins.

Such a combination, the department speculated, was something that didn't come by the hundred dozen, or even singly, much.

Along came Cupid with an assist and if you ever saw a government give its paternal or maternal blessing to a wedding, this was it.

Wilfred E. Huskilson, principal of the high school, at Clark's Harbor N.S., applied for the school-teaching part of the job. His qualifications included one B.A. degree, one M. A. from Acadia University at Wolfville, N.S., and one fiancee who's a graduate nurse.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Both were highly recommended for the job of teaching and nursing Eskimos, according to Dr. Donald Smith, Liberal member of parliament for Queen-Shelburne, N.S.

Huskilson, he said, "is a highly-qualified teacher, a good athlete and is anxious to make a contribution toward the education of Eskimo children in the north. The department will be fortunate if it obtains his services."

His prospective bride, whose name was not given was described as a graduate nurse from Hotel Dieu Hospital at Edmundston, N.B.

LLOYDMINSTER, June 9:

LAST LOOK AT LLOYD

The tournament didn't draw as many people as last year but the Canadian Legion members who sponsor it cleared nearly as much money—$7,000.

All that scratch will go into the building fund for the Legion's Memorial hall.

★ ★ ★

Howie Martin, slender right-hander who toils for CNR in the Edmonton Junior league, was the hard-luck guy yesterday. Pitching for St. Paul in the semi-finals against Delisle, Martin was leading 7-2 with one inning to play.

He made the first two batters hit ground balls down to second base. These should have been easy outs.

But the second sacker booted the ball like a football player at kickoff time, and that was all the Bentleys needed. The Bears were beaten when that relentless competitor named Max Bentley leaned against a fast ball and socked it far away to clear the loaded bases.

★ ★ ★

CAMROSE NEXT

Next stop on the tournament circuit is Camrose, a $5,000 show which is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday. Camrose monguls Bill Noonan and Roy Chartier flew here yesterday to get a peek at how tournaments should be operated.

And believe me, they got several tips from these tournament-wise Lloydians.

Texaco Oilers looked OK as far as they went—to the final. Ken Bailey, former Edmonton Junior, pitched them to victory over Killburg, and Dave Runnak hurled them past Westlock.

EAC hockey player and CNR third baseman, Jimmy Johnson, was the best fielder on display. For a little guy he covers a lot of ground, and the Texaco ace was selected by no less an authority than Ralph Morgan as tops in the tournament.

★ ★ ★

And speaking of Morgan, he is planning to enlist the aid of several old pros!—Dave Brockie, Doug Stewart, et all—for the purpose of playing tournament baseball in 1951.

That's where all the money is.

Harry Ornest, Big Four umpire who called balls and strikes here in partnership with John Ducey, may marry late this year. He plans to pack up hockey refereeing once he becomes a family man, aims to go into business for himself.

★ ★ ★

Next big time at Lloydminster will be the Barr Colony Daze Rodeo on June 20-21.

★ ★ ★

Eddie Brown, diminutive second baseman with Delisle, claims to have been the leading Vees Cnsr fritter in the Mexican league last winter with a mark of .364. He was no great flash here, preferring to clown rather than pivot.

THREE DOT STUFF . . .

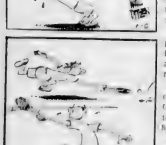
Ducey and Ornest regard Doug (Goose) Goslin as the best chucker in the tourney. The 20-year-old Toronto righthander beat Sceptre on six hits yesterday. . . .

Max Bentley, 30-year-old centreman of Toronto Maple Leafs, threatens to retire after the 1950-51 season. But there are those who say he will hang up there in the NHL for some years following that. . . .

Play 3-3 Tie

Laura Lee and Highlands played to a 3-3 tie in a Midget baseball league contest at Borden park last night.

FAN FARE



CROSSING THE PLATE after hitting home run in Lloydminster baseball tournament is Max Bentley of Delisle Gems. His nephew Bev, right, congratulates him while Elston catcher Stevenson, left, waits for festivities on the Delisle bench to subside. Delisle won game 9-1 and won the title yesterday with a 10-0 conquest of Edmonton Texaco Oilers.

RANGERS HOOK UP WITH CINCY

CINCINNATI, June 9—(AP)—The Cincinnati Hockey club of the American Hockey league, yesterday announced it had signed a working agreement with New York Rangers of the National Hockey league.

It provides that Rangers will lend the local team at least six players during the coming season, also that it will get first choice of the New York surplus.

The agreement is for one year. It will be in addition to that with Montreal Canadiens, which was in force last season.

Sugar Ray In 'Demand'

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—Middleweight champion Jake La Motta and challenger Rocky Graziano both said yesterday that they would like to fight Sugar Ray Robinson, and both declared they can knock out the welterweight king.

La Motta and Graziano will meet in a 15-round title bout in the Polo Grounds here, June 28.

LaMotta, who won only one out of five bouts with Robinson, said "I'd like to fight him again, but in a 20-round bout. I'd knock him out for sure."

Graziano said "I'll knock Robinson stiff. I'll take that cocky guy anytime, in a gym, ring or an alley. I want to fight him more than any other guy. I'll take him on after La Motta, win, lose or draw."

Toss Book At Jockey

FAIRMOUNT PARK, Ill., June 9—(AP)—Allen Shelton, leading jockey at Fairmount Park with eight victories, was suspended yesterday for the balance of the meeting here, a representative of the Illinois Racing Commissioner announced.

The Evansville, Ind., jockey was cited for violation of Illinois rules and regulations governing betting or acceptance of gifts by jockeys.

Pontiacs Edged By Precision

Any hopes Nin Gray's Pontiacs had of jumping into a first place tie with league-leading Singers were muzzled last night at Kingsway as Precisions edged Pontiacs 8-7.

The win solidified Precisions' hold on third place in the Senior Men's Fastball loop.

Fire Department, with pitcher Alex MacGregor throwing a neat three-hitter, drubbed RCAF 10-1 in the opener of a twin-bill to take over first place in the senior Men's B league standings.

'Monty' Montgomery's Machinists jumped into a 5-0 lead in the third frame and added singletons in each of the next three innings for their margin of victory.

★ ★ ★

Pontiacs fought back with a trio in the fourth and two more in the seventh. Another pair, both driven in by pitcher Jack Cossey's triple in the eighth frame, almost tied the game—almost but not quite.

Pontiac catcher Bob Nault lined to the pitcher to retire the side with Cossey, the tying marker, stranded on base. They went down in order in their last turn at bat at the hands of relief hurler Bill Onyschuk.

Precision's starting chucker, Don Harkness, wielded the big bat for the winners, smashing a triple and double.

★ ★ ★

Fred Grossman, Bud Gilmour and Pete Danylowich sparked Firemen to their win over Airmen. Grossman and Gilmour each walloped triples and Danylowich collected a pair of doubles.

MacGregor kept the hits off him well scattered. Airmen's lone run was scored on Dave Ross' single and Neil Shave's error in centre field.

SYNDICATE SEEKS BUY ATHLETICS

PHILADELPHIA, June 9—(AP)—James P. Clark said yesterday he has organized a syndicate to purchase the Philadelphia Athletics "if and when they are for sale."

"I talked with Connie Mack, Jr.," Clark said, "and I plan to have another talk with him or members of the Mack family today." Clark said the syndicate is composed of members of the 100-man group which owns the professional football Eagles and others.

Gasco Snuffs Out Firemen

Gasco knocked off Fire Department 17-3 in a South Side Intermediate Fastball league game at South Side Athletic grounds last night.

A big nine-run fifth inning, during which Art Ledger crashed a homer, made it easy for the winners.

Logan Wallops Tourney In Civil Service Richard

MARJ FORRESTER WINS

Bill Logan has gone and thrown monkey wrench into the best laid plans of the seeding committee of the Civil Service tennis club's annual tournament.

Last night as the fifth day of play concluded, Logan knocked off fourth seeded Dr. Hal Richard to advance into the semi-finals of the men's singles event.

Logan, who copped the Ferrie cup in the provincial tourney a few days last year, whisked Richard to the sidelines by a convincing 6-0, 6-2 margin.

The winner now meets defending champion Johnny Stott in the next round. At the same time Georgie Docherty and Art Ingall will meet in the other semi-final match.

In the feature ladies' singles encounter last night Marj Forrester had an easy time of it against Peggy Colville, winning 6-1, 6-3.

Delisle Takes 1st Money At 'Lloyd Ball Tourney

By DICK BEDDOES
Bulletin Staff Writer

LLOYDMINSTER, June 9—Delisle Gems hit the jackpot in the Lloydminster baseball tournament's slot machine yesterday, winning the $2,000 first prize for the second straight year.

They trounced Edmonton Texaco Oilers 10-0 in an abbreviated seven-inning finale with nearly 6,500 customers looking on.

But the Gems were fortunate to be in the final, at all. For in the semi-final against St. Paul Bears, Delisle was forced to prove that old baseball axiom: "The game ain't over until the last out in the ninth inning."

They almost didn't prove it though. St. Paul having built up a 7-2 lead by the time the ninth inning came round.

★ ★ ★

And no one was more surprised than the Bears to find themselves five runs up on the highly-touted Gems, featuring the Bentley family. Then the name 'Bentley,' which smacks of athletic prowess in the strictest professional sense hit the Bears amidships and they tumbled like a ton of bricks.

The first two Delisle batters in the top of the ninth—Dick Butler and pitcher Murray Coben — got life on successive errors by the St. Paul second baseman.

Doug Bentley drew a free pass and the bases were filled. Butler scored, making it 7-3 when Dick Piper reached first on a miscue at short.

That set the stage for the most important hit of the tournament. Max Bentley, a great money player and a regular pigpin in the jams, delivered it, rapping a triple against the centre-field wall.

Max scored on Eddie Brown's single, deadlocking the count at 7-7 before the side was retired.

★ ★ ★

The Bentleys, who could smell that big prize like bird dogs on a pheasant hunt, bounced ahead 11-7 with four runs in the top of the 10th.

Delisle had easy pickings in the wind-up. They scored 10 runs in the first four frames against a tired Texaco crew, which lacked pitching strength.

Oilers had used all their hurlers in sidelining Nellburg and Westlock, and had nothing left but a prayer in the final.

★ ★ ★

But don't look down your nose at the Edmontonians, bub. They came to this tournament as a substitute for Saskatoon, making their appearance on less than 48 hours notice. They hadn't expected to win a single game, but wound up with $750 for their efforts [illegible]

Kamloops Elks, selected by this reporter to qualify for the final against Delisle, tumbled like humpty-dumpty as highly-regarded Westlock, score being 5-1.

In other games played yesterday, Texaco whipped Nellburg 9-2 and edged Westlock 5-3, Delisle doubled the score on Sceptre 4-2 and St. Paul Bears snapped up Mundare 8-4.

DELISLE PITCHER Bunny Gregg was responsible for the win over Eston in first round of Lloydminster tournament. Negro righthander allowed six hits as Delisle registered 6-1 triumph.

NEW HAVEN SQUAD RANGER HEADACHE

NEW YORK, June 9—(AP)—Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden which owns New York Rangers, said yesterday the National Hockey league club would not operate the New Haven Ramblers next season.

Lynn Patrick, who recently turned in a surprise resignation as coach of the Rangers, was quoted as saying that New York lost $87,000 in New Haven in the last four years and "even the Garden can't stand that."

Goalies Get Break As Crease Enlarged

BANFF, June 9—(CP)—The goalkeeper will receive more protection in the 1950-51 hockey season, it was revealed here yesterday as the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association completed the second day of its 37th annual convention.

The association passed unanimously a proposal to give the goalkeeper a three-foot crease from all points.

In the past a goalie had a crease extending three feet in front of the net but only six inches on each side. The new crease will be a partial circle and will prevent players from standing beside the goal and interfering with the puck blocker.

FOLLOWS NHL

The CAHA also fell in line with the National Hockey league by deciding to give a misconduct penalty to any player guilty of banging his stick on the boards to attract the attention of a referee or in protest of a decision.

The penalty for the infraction will be a 10-minute misconduct.

A coach or trainer guilty of the infraction automatically will be removed from his team's bench for the balance of the contest.

Another new rule will be a minor penalty for any player committing what is called "slipping," deliberately falling in front of an opponent and knocking his feet out from under him.

The lead-the-puck rule was left almost intact.

Only change provided that a player must make an attempt to trap the puck or it will not be classed as icing.

Also, a player on the same side as the team icing the puck will be eligible to take the puck if he is onside. The move is expected to speed up the game and prevent unnecessary whistles.

What's in a Horse's Name?

Ever hear of Air Twist? No? Well you might—two, three years from now, always providing the pompous New York Jockey club doesn't step in and tell owner-breeder Walter Sprague that Air Twist won't do as a moniker.

Air Twist, you see, is a foal . . . a thoroughbred boy foal that first reached for the feed bag about a month ago now. His dam—Budgel—is well bred, goes back to Bull Lea, in fact. And Air Twist's pop—Goldstream—was a hard-knocking sort when it came time to turn it on through Heartbreak Highway, meaning the stretch.

★ ★ ★ ★

In other words little 'Air Twist' belongs in any list of equine blue-bloods you might care to compile, if you have the time.

★ ★ ★ ★

But it isn't about Air Twist's family tree we want to tell you. Family tree or no, the son of Goldstream mightn't be worth a quarter when it comes time to go into training, once his days as a yearling are behind him.

It's that name—Air Twist—that rates the ink.

★ ★ ★ ★

Already you may have decided, from a study of the names of the little fellow's parents, that he might more easily, and with better reason, have been named Gold-Bud, Budstream or some such.

Generally (generally, heck. It's almost a 'must' with breeders) there's more than a suggestion of a thoroughbred's breeding right in his handle.

★ ★ ★ ★

What horseman, or even greenhorn with no more than a nodding acquaintance with the neighborhood bookie, could meet up with Black Chicle, a hide that has campaigned on the prairie circuit, and not say to himself: "This one must be by Black Servant."

★ ★ ★ ★

Hill Prince, winner of the Preakness a couple of weeks back, is by Princequillo.

Closer to home there's Bob Edwards' Jandam, by Amsterdam out of Jane K. If you don't catch what we mean by adding that one up, consider Ideal Joe, by Shoeless Joe, out of Ideal Girl. Take Double Or Nothing, by Yankee Doodle out of Double Foot.

The list is a long one, even though sometimes a little research is required to unravel the significance of a thoroughbred's name.

You may not be able to tell the ball-players at Renfrew Park without a program, but frequently you can case a hay-burner just by the name on the Green Sheet.

★ ★ ★ ★

But owner-breeder Sprague, a sportsminded citizen who finds time to double in brass as president of the Eskimo football club, didn't want any part of custom in choosing of a name for Budgel's foal.

What to do then?

Really, it was so simple . . . once he had decided to throw off the shackles of convention.

★ ★ ★ ★

As is his wife, Sprague long has been a fancier of household curios and off-the-beaten-path knick-knacks made of glass.

People who know about these things come from many miles for a gander at the Sprague showcases. Last time we heard the man of the house was thinking of getting out a pamphlet, so weary has he grown of disclosing the whys and wherefores of the various trinkets.

It might even get to be a serial, he's afraid.

Seriously, though, that fine collection of glass-inspired the name of the Goldstream-Budgel offspring. Because among the most prized pieces are several air-twist goblets, as they're known to the trade.

So that's why it's Air Twist providing, as mentioned in the beginning, the Jockey Club doesn't turn down the proposed name. The J. C. gang has the final say in such matters.

And they're SO autocratic.

LIGHTS UP lit up the track in the Peter Pan handicap at New York's Belmont Park recently, beating Mr. Trouble. Ferd, right, runs a close third. Lights Up, ridden by George Hettinger, travelled the mile and one-eighth in 1:50 2-5.

EVEN BOOKIES GIVE UP ON BROWNS

LOS ANGELES, June 9—(AP)—Further embarrassment for St. Louis Browns baseball club, with a side bow to Washington and the Chicago White Sox.

A Los Angeles bookmaker—off the record, of course—announced yesterday that he would accept no more bets on the Brownies, except when they play Senators or White Sox.

"No matter how high you make the price, bettor keep playing the other team—and the Browns get murdered," the man said.

RECORDS FALL

Red Sox Blast Brownies 29-4

By Carl Lundquist

NEW YORK, June 9—(UP)—In the most savage big league batting assault perpetrated in the 20th century, Boston Red Sox ran up the incredible total of 60 total bases yesterday in mauling St. Louis Browns, 29 to 4 and setting seven records along the way.

Naturally, the Red Sox slaughter overshadowed all other major league doings for the day, including New York Yankees 11-4 win over the second-place Detroit Tigers.

The muscular men of Joe McCarthy, paced by the great Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and rookie star Walt Dropo, cannonaded seven home runs into the woods.

Doerr got three of them to bat in eight runs, Williams collected two, his 15th and 16th to add to his major league lead, and Dropo also hit two, giving him a total of 14.

The 29 runs represented the busiest total ever scored in a league game since the reorganization of the American and National leagues as constituted today—back in 1901.

That total of 60 bases, which was accounted for in the seven homers, one triple, nine doubles, and 11 singles, exceeded even the most ancient mark on the books, a pre-modern total of 55 set by the Cincinnati Reds of 1893.

All of the 29 runs were batted in, giving the Red Sox another new mark which exceeded the 25 driven in by the New York Giants over the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1944.

Alabama Golf 'Unknown' Sets Hot Pace In U. S. Open

By Gayle Talbot

ARDMORE, Pa., June 9 — (AP) — A 26-year-old Birmingham, Ala., pro with a beat-up bag of clubs and no job to his name, yesterday shot one of the most amazing rounds of golf in the history of the game.

Unheralded Lee Mackey, Jr., shot an almost-unbelievable 64—six strokes under par for the tough Merion course—to shatter every record for a single round in 50 United States Open championships and grasp a three-stroke lead at the outset of the 1950 classic.

HE TAMED IT!

They had said that Merion, 6,694 yards long, couldn't be tamed. The record for the rugged layout was 68, set by Tom Creavy in another Open, 16 years ago.

Young Mackey, whose greatest previous claim to fame was a victory in the Birmingham City Amateur meet, one-putted 10 greens in registering his 32-31—64.

His score clipped a stroke from the previous Open record of 30-35—65, set at the St. Louis Country Club three years ago by Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia.

Closest to Mackey was Al Brosch, a 20-year-old from Long Island, NY, who scored a commendable 34-35—67.

ALEXANDER CLOSE UP

Right on Brosch's heels were Sam Alexander, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Julius Boros of Southend Pines, NC., each with a 68.

Knotted at 69 were Harold Williams of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Henry Williams of Secane, Pa., and they were the last of the field of 165 to better Merion's par 70. Only six mastered the layout.

Sammy Snead, the favorite, wound up with 35-38—73. Ben Hogan had 72.

Carey Middlecoff, who won the title a year ago, shot himself a 71.

Haskins Big Gun As EAC Wins 7-5

EAC pitcher Keith Haskins almost made it a one-man show last night as Clubmen downed Elmwood Park Dodgers 7-5 at Diamond park.

Haskins limited Dodgers to five safeties and struck out 13.

The young hurler also wielded a big bat with considerable venom, driving in three runs, including the winner in the sixth.

Legion Cops 4-2 In Junior Soccer

North Side Legion Cubs strengthened their position atop the Junior Soccer league last night by defeating Cloverdale 4-2 at Clarke Stadium.

Canadians came from behind to tie South Side 1-1 at South Side Athletic grounds in a second junior tilt. It was Canuck's first point of the season.

Legion tallies were garnered by Bobby Lothian, Bill Monaghan, Peter Gunn and Ollie Meyers. Jimmy Fox and Bill Hoskis counted for the losers.

Joe Christenson put South Side into the lead at the 25 minute mark in the game played at Athletic grounds.

Squads were evenly matched and play see-sawed back and forth.

Big Vince Meyers, from a scramble in front of the net, blasted the ball home to deadlock the game 25 minutes before the end.

LINE-UPS

Legion — Gross; Parks, Dempsey, Meyers, Tookey, Lothian, White Monaghan, Gunne Breadmore.

Cloverdale—Nestiarr; Easterby, Tronson, Hunt, Owen, Hoskis, Fox, Edgar, Astley, Baldwin, Armstrong. Substitute, Larson.

Canadians — Davis; DeHeer, Mcwhinney, L. Hiley, Stephinkek, D. Hiley, Davies, Philson, Hepburn, Meyers, McKinley.

West Indies Away Fast As Test Cricket Opens

MANCHESTER, England, June 9. — (Reuters) — Fortunes fluctuated yesterday in the season's first Test cricket match between England and the West Indies with the visitors holding the upper hand as the first day's play ended.

England, batting first, was dismissed for a first-innings total of 312 runs. When stumps were drawn, the West Indies had scored 17 without loss of a wicket.

Godfrey Evans, with 104, his first century, and Trevor Bailey, 82 not out, combined in adding 161 for a sixth-wicket record for test matches between England and the West Indies. The previous best was 158.

Alf Valentine, 20-year-old Jamaican left-arm slow bowler, took a deadly toll. His total for the complete innings was eight wickets.

England's troubles began when opening batsman Hutton was forced to retire with a bruised finger. A delivery by Hines Johnson, husky fast bowler, struck him.

B.C. SOCCER INTERESTS MAY TURN 'HONEST'

VANCOUVER, June 9—(CP)—Vancouver may become part of a proposed Pacific Coast professional soccer league.

John Richardson, secretary of the British Columbia Soccer commission, said last night soccer in B.C.—currently operating under an amateur label—may soon switch to pro status.

He envisioned a five-club coastal set-up, including such cities as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver.

He added: "We have nothing definite to go on yet. But we have reason to believe there are factions definitely interested in such a set-up in the cities named."

Commons Wins 15-6 As 'Big Train' Back

OTTAWA, June 9—(CP)—One of Canada's formerly greatest all-round athletes collided with some of the country's worst last night: Result was devastating.

Lionel (Big Train) Conacher, resources minister Bob Winters and Wilfred (Bucko) McDonald slammed out a total of four homers to lead the House of Commons to a lopsided 15-6 softball victory over the parliamentary press gallery.

Proceeds from the annual game between the members and the press played on the lush front lawns on Parliament Hill, were turned over to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

Rev. Dan McIvor, manager of the Commons team, announced following the game that live collections taken from spectators in addition to large number of senators and members, totalled $295.

Game later was mentioned at meeting of the radio committee. Several members commented what would be the CBC's version of the game.

Ernest Bushnell, director-general of CBC programs, said the matter was being taken care of. He added jokingly:

"Those who batted right hand are going to be described as right-fist; those who batted left handed are going to be described as left-fist."

Then turning to Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton), one of the Commons players, Mr. Bushnell said:

HARNESSMEN ADOPT FOOLPROOF SYSTEM

YONKERS, N.Y.—(NEA)—Adoption of the chestnut, or nighteye, system of identifying horses at Yonkers Raceway marks the first time it has been used by harness racing.

"We photograph the wart-like growths, known as chestnuts or night eyes, on the backs of horses' legs. Out of 35,000 so classified at thoroughbred tracks, we have never had a duplicate set of chestnuts.

No New Military Pledges Given

Parliament Gets Assurance It Will Be Kept Informed

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—The Commons, opening a wide-ranging debate on defence, heard Defence Minister Claxton declare yesterday that Canada has undertaken no new military commitments under Atlantic Pact arrangements.

He told the Chamber the Pact's policy of balanced collective forces is "implicit in collective defence" and will have "no immediate effect" on Canadian forces or planning.

At the same time the Dominion was ready to sit down and discuss her part in playing the best possible total Pact defence. If commitments came, they would be made by Parliament and the government.

The opening phases of the debate brought criticism from opposition members. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, called on Mr. Claxton to produce a detailed statement of units and establishments of the army, navy and air force, including an outline of expenditures for each item.

WANTS FRANCO IN

Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC, Calgary East), speaking as an individual, suggested Canada should take the lead in urging the re-arming of Germany and proposed that Franco Spain be brought within the framework of the Atlantic Pact.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, protested the discharge of a Regina man from the RCAF for allegedly having a Communist background, and Mr. Claxton replied that the man, a radar and electronics expert, had been a member of the Young Communist League in the late 1930's.

The minister indicated at least one other man had been discharged for similar reasons.

MANY PARATROOPERS

He disclosed that Federal and Provincial authorities will meet within the next few months to work out plans for civilian defence in Canada at the provincial level. The planning has been completed at the Federal level.

Mr. Claxton reported also that the army's airborne division is 80 per cent up to strength that 405 Canadian servicemen now are abroad, that Vancouver shortly will have the second RCAF reserve radar squadron, and that Canada now has more trained paratroopers than Germany dropped on the Low Countries in 1940.

NOT SURE HE SAW HIM SO HE LEFT

STANLEY, N.D., June 9—(AP)—When Julius Eastvold walked out to the barn on the J. R. Grapham farm yesterday morning, he wasn't sure whether he was awake or still dreaming.

He looked inside, saw an elephant, and "retreated and left the elephant in charge."

In phoning authorities here, he learned that the pachyderm was one of two belonging to the Seals Brothers circus, which played in Stanley Wednesday.

The elephant had broken loose during a rain and sought refuge in the barn, evidently an old hand at opening barn doors. The circus attendants retrieved the animal.

Highway Link To Havre Opens On Labor Day

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 9—(CP)—An international party will celebrate the official opening, Labor Day, of the Elkwater-Wildhorse highway that will link Medicine Hat with Havre, Mont. The ceremony will take place at the Wildhorse port of entry. Hard-surfacing is planned next year.

Montana will be represented at the ceremony by state and federal officials. Invitations will be extended to citizens of Alberta and Saskatchewan as well as Montana.

SOUTH PACIFIC STAR BEGS FOR A SUN TAN

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON
Exclusive to The Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, June 9—(UP)—The chamber of commerce won't like this, but the "land of sunshine" is a flop as far as Janet Blair's concerned.

There isn't any sun.

Hasn't been for almost two weeks now. And this leaves Miss Blair's much-photographed body embarrassingly white.

It's a horrible situation any way you look at it. The lack of sun, that is. (There's nothing wrong with the Blair chassis.)

"Except that I'm so pale!" she squealed. "And I'm supposed to look tanned for my role in 'South Pacific.' How can I look like I've spent months on a South Sea island if this darn California sun won't come out?"

A. E. Showalter, local forecaster, didn't do much to cheer her up, either. His charts and gadgets don't forecast any sun to speak of for at least another week.

'SUN' GOGGLES

We found her in a strapless yellow bathing suit and gooseprimples today, trying to "sit out" the fog by the town house pool. Every time the sun peeked through momentarily, Janet threw off her sun (Hawl) goggles and stretched out hopefully.

But by the time she got flat on her back it was too late. The clouds had taken over again.

"I've tried everything," she wailed. "The other kids in the show use suh lamps. But all they do to this skin of mine is make it peel.

"I can't use body make-up. I shampoo my hair every performance when I sing 'I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair' and the water floats my fake tan away.

SALAD SMELL

In desperation, Janet said, she mixed up her own special sun-tan concoction. It's got a lot of almond oil, a little witch hazel, a dash of iodine, a pinch of salt and a sprinkling of tannic acid.

"If any sun does come out," she muttered grimly, "I'm ready to trap it down to its last ray."

Meanwhile, she looked awful purty shivering in that strapless suit. But she smelled like a French salad.

George L. Willis, 9348-104 avenue, reported incident to police yesterday.

He said two men in a car approached his landlady, Mrs. W. Zyskewych, and persuaded her to give them his St. Bernard dog.

They told the landlady, he said, they would keep the dog until its owner settled for damage it had done to their lawn.

Mr. Willis told police his landlady did not obtain addresses of the men and he believed it was a trick to obtain possession of the dog. Value of dog was not reported.

Dating Do's and Dont's Damage Dates' Dignity

JACKIE SEIFERT

Happened to run across an article in a certain magazine the other day that dealt with the do's and dont's of dating. Since most of you do a little dating on the side I'd love to list a few hints as described in said article.

Anything that annoys a gal is a guy that phones her and then talks for hours and hours before he finally gets the courage to ask her to the movie Friday night. Maybe he's trying to keep her in suspense but anyway let's get to the point!

So the "sweet young thing" has accepted the date and when "Prince Charming" rings the door bell she appears in an outfit that's fit to kill.

Gals, choose clothes that suit the occasion and your own complexion, hair coloring, etc. It's not how many outfits you have that counts but how and where you wear them.

She thinks that Alan Ladd is groovy, but he'd sure like to see the movie. If you're gabby . . . nix! There's nothing more grim to a fella than a gal who chatters unceasingly about nothing in particular.

Conversationalists — yes! But chatterboxes—uh, uh! And remember, keep your voice pleasant.

And then, of course, there's the fella who likes to brag about the other loves in his life. Don't be surprised if you're suddenly told where to get off, man! Enough is enough!

Are you a gold digger? Gosh, I'll bet you're lonesome!

Boys, still insist that they like the natural look. No war paint for 'em. Better a shiny nose than a mask that chips off on your dancing partner's suit.

Also remember, perfume is an aroma, not an anaesthetic!

PARADISE FOR FISHERMEN IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, June 9.—(CP)—Wanna catch some fish?

Head for Netley Marshes, 30 miles north of here.

There are thousands of carp there, and a pitchfork —not a fishing line—is the equipment needed.

Flood tides over the marsh have brought hordes of the fish to destroy food essential to ducks and other water fowl.

Art Anderson, local Ducks Unlimited representative who leads the crews, said he has no idea how many fish have been killed in the shallow waters.

"Every time I stab with the fork I get at least two fish.

JP Dismissed By Governor

LANSING, Mich., June 9.—(UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams removed a 70-year-old justice of peace from office today for jailing a newspaper editor who criticized him.

Williams found Magistrate Charles F. Young of Grand Ledge, Mich., guilty of five counts of misconduct yesterday. Young twice fined editor-publisher Frank Weinert of the Weekly Grand Ledge Reminder and also sentenced him to 10 days for contempt, but Weinert won release on a habeas corpus petition.

Canadian Westinghouse Ltd. today gave a $220,000 boost to the city's building permit total, sending it closer to the $10,000,000 mark.

The company was granted a permit for a two storey, 100 by 150 foot warehouse and office building at 10312 105 street.

Canada Instantly Ready For War

Two-Thirds Of First Year's Equipment Now In Stockpile

OTTAWA, June 9.—(BUP)—Defence Minister Brooke Claxton indicated to parliament today that Canada could get ready for war at a moment's notice.

The minister said two-thirds of the equipment needed for the first year of a possible war already was stockpiled. The navy could be fully operational within a few hours, he stated.

Claxton was speaking during debate on the defence department's estimates. He told the House there would be no immediate change in Canadian defence programs, despite the North Atlantic Pact agreement to extend defence to a specific area rather than merely a country.

Refusing a request from opposition Leader George Drew for information on mobilization forces, Claxton said:

"I do not know anything that the enemy would like more than to know the strength of trained personnel in each type of unit so as to show our whole battle order, its effectiveness, and the establishment figures for mobilization.

"It would disclose information not only about our own establishments but also about those of countries with which we are Allied," he said.

Claxton also explained that, with such information, a prospective aggressor would have an invaluable check on his own espionage and information services.

INFANTRY IMPORTANT

Claxton hinted at new developments in projectiles. He did so when stating clearly that the role of infantry would not be changed in defence plans, and its importance had not been reduced.

"I believe that the trend of modern development in the immediate future will increase the importance of infantry because there are developments coming in weapons and projectiles which will increase the defensive power of infantry against armour," he said.

An effort would be made to send more and more personnel into operational units, he promised. At present, headquarters staff numbered 47 per cent of the armed forces, but Claxton did not believe this figure out of line because administrators were needed to deal with larger forces in case of war.

Dealing with the navy, the minister said all Canadian ships in commission can be fully operational within a matter of hours. At present 41.5 per cent of navel personnel are in commissioned ships, much larger than in any other navy he was familiar with.

JEWEL THIEF GETS FIVE-YEAR JAIL TERM

James H. Johnston, 21, convicted jewel thief and jail escapee, let Supreme court here in tears today, to start serving five years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

The ta, ganging Vancouver youth was found guilty by Chief Justice Howson of the theft of two rings worth $2,899 from Henry Birks & Sons (Western) Ltd. store here, Mar. 18, and sentenced to the five-year term.

For the Nadon Jewelry thet of $179 worth of rings Mar 2, to which he had previously pleaded guilty, Johnston was given a two-year term n Prince Albert. He also drew a two-year penalty for his confessed escape from custody in Edmonton jail, April 19.

The three sentences were made concurrent.

Town Studies Licence Fees

First and second readings of a bylaw to govern non-resident tradesmen in Beverly were given last night by Beverly town council members.

If the bylaw is passed non-resident tradesmen will have to receive special licences to carry on trade in the town, or establish themselves in the town and become resident tradesmen.

Special licences will be available at a fee of $100 per job to those who wish to carry on trade in the town, if the bylaw is passed.

Third and final reading will be heard at council meeting on July 6th.

Approval was given last night for the construction of two business establishments.

Nick Matel will construct a $40,000 dine-and-dance hall on 48 St. and 118 Ave.

The second was given to Nick Fask for the construction of a $15,000 garage at 45 street and 118 avenue.

It was a shock to learn of the sudden death of Leo Martin.

When most Edmontonians think of Leo they think of the old Shasta on Jasper avenue and of an era and friendships in Edmonton's history that were deep and warm.

The Martins, Leo and "Shorty", were leaders in the cafe business here for more than a decade. "Shorty" died eight years ago.

★ ★ ★ ★

Nobody heard very much about Leo after he left the Shasta in 1936 to work with brother "Shorty" at the New Edmonton Hotel, where he stayed until his death.

Leo always had a friendly smile for everyone. He liked people and people liked him.

Remember me mentioning yesterday that I hadn't heard from Pat in four days?

As a matter of fact Pat says if they'd let him do it, he'd write a new book for the Old Testament that would make Job's troubles look tame.

Here are a few of Pat's current tribulations: Mrs. Ashby took sick and had to go in hospital; a neighbor's bull smashed through the Ashby fence and went on a rampage over the Ashby estate; the Ashby well went dry.

That's the well that cost more than $3,000 to dig. It's so deep that Ottawa has asked Pat to set it aside for an atomic bomb shelter. It was the 111th well dug on the Ashby farm, before anybody struck water.

One bright spot: Mrs. Ashby is better.

Dant's Office Busy On Parking Setup

Says 'Millions' Will Be Saved In New Warehouse District

Edmonton's town planning department is preparing a plan to relieve the warehouse district's truck congestion problem, which will "save the city millions of dollars."

This was Town Planner, Noel Dant's "business report" to last night's city council bylaws committee meeting.

He was responding to R. V. MacCosham's demand to know what he stood on his proposal to put a sawtooth, off-street truck loading space in his projected new building at 105 street and 102 avenue.

Trucks using the three stalls would project six feet over the property line, and that six feet has delayed his building permit, said the town planner, and will delay the bylaw, councillors.

NO PERMIT

Mr. Dant said the problem is not as difficult as it first appeared. He wants to interview city business men in the warehouse area, go over the matter with City Solicitor Thomas Cuthbert, and then report the plan now being prepared by two of his assistants.

He asked that matter be tabled again, and the committee agreed.

It was agreed also that under the present bylaw, Mr. MacCosham could not get a building permit for his proposal.

Clean City By Contract?

Wanna clean up the city?

Edmonton aldermen are toying with the idea of either letting a contract for cleaning up all paper and dirt on the streets, or letting a contract for cleaning streets and collecting all garbage.

At last night's City Council Bylaws committee meeting Mayor Sid Parsons said preliminary enquiries have already been made about having all clean-up work and all garbage collection done on a [illegible]

"There is nothing definite," he cautioned.

The whole business arose from a bylaw, printed more than a month ago and referred to bylaws committee for consideration, proposing to institute one 8 a.m. deadline on sides with sweeping operations in business sections to 9 a.m.

The mayor thought if any change were made, it should be back to 9 o'clock, rather than ahead.

And without too much dusty discussion, the committee agreed to leave the deadline where it now is, and [illegible] thereabouts.

A city police constable Thursday consumed liquor without a permit on a public place, police Court.

But it was all quite legal. Constable R. McDonald was performing the functions of an "analyst."

It was a drunken driving case and Assistant Prosecutor Guy Beaudry wished to prove some senior liquid in a whiskey bottle was hard liquor without having it medically analyzed.

Constable McDonald performed the lay functions of an analyst with a hooking of the arm and a tilting of the head. He pronounced the substance liquor and the case proceeded.

City council committee meetings are livened by charges of one kind or another.

But last night a new allegation reared its handsome head.

A service station operator who said he applied in 1949 and again this year for a 24-hour service permit, roundly condemned city fathers for granting such permits on the basis of the applicants' good looks.

Ald Harold Tanner, chairman of the bylaws committee, quickly swung at the charge of favoritism.

"Why, we never even see some of the applicants," he fumed.

False News Starts Flurry

BALBOA, C.Z., June 9—(AP)—A false report of an invasion of Western Germany by the Reds caused a flurry of excitement in the city of Panama and the Canal Zone yesterday.

Pan American World Airways officials reported an unexplained message appeared on their teletype printers in the city of Panama and at Toronto National airport.

Labelled as a "United Press news flash," the item said:

"Russian tanks invaded West Germany with a force estimated at over 100,000 troops, supported by heavy tanks and dive bombers."

The Panama American, an afternoon newspaper and United Press subscriber, said it had received no such message in their news report.

Pan American officials said the teletypes at Panama and Toronto are operated on a local circuit.

Rural Phone Line Slashed

Founder of a rural telephone company who sold interests, then "cut off" subscribers, was freed in Supreme Court yesterday on three charges of wilful damage.

George Werenka, Vilna farmer, cut off his former customers quite literally—by removing sections of wire in two cases and cutting the wire in the third, court was told.

Chief Justice Howson said he had "no doubt at all" that Werenka had no right to do this but held that he may have thought he had the right and therefore may not have caused the damage wilfully.

STATEMENT

In a statement given to RCMP, Werenka said he organized what became the Hamlin Downing Mutual Telephone Company south of Vilna about 10 years ago and continued as its president for a number of years. He said that he built at his own expense most of the system's 20 miles of party line.

He confirmed evidence that he sold out his interests last August for $50 to one of the other seven shareholders.

Werenka was also to receive settlement of $78 from the company which hasn't been paid, according to evidence.

Evidence was that on Nov. 15 last he took down about a mile of telephone line "disconnecting" one subscriber and on May 21 and 22 "cut off" two more subscribers by removing or cutting lines.

The latter followed the company's May 21 annual meeting at which Werenka, according to company members, "said he was going to cut us all off."

BENEFIT

He gave various reasons for terminating each subscriber's service alleging that the individual didn't keep his line in good repair, didn't own the line or wasn't a company member.

Chief Justice Howson told Werenka "I'm going to give you the benefit of any doubt I have. You may have thought you had an interest in the company—and I have some doubt about that—but I'm going to give you the benefit of this doubt and find you not guilty."

Prisoner Assistance Toughest Assignment

Rehabilitation of men leaving Canadian penal institutions is the "toughest assignment ever undertaken" by a welfare society.

That's what members of the Edmonton Rotary club were told at the club's luncheon yesterday by Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton. Art King presided.

The speaker said it cost $1,000 to keep one man in jail for a year.

Under a proper system of well-supervised probation, this cost could be cut to $30 for a year, the bishop said.

The John Howard society has long advocated a probation system for all of Canada. At present only Ontario and B.C. use this system.

"Canada lags far behind England and the United States, where probation, particularly for young offenders, has been proven of great value," Bishop Barfoot said.

He urged Rotarians to give full support to the John Howard society and for business men to give jobs to men released from prison.

"Records of the society show that not once has an ex-convict committed any crime against his employer. Persons employing men released from jail take no risk at all," the speaker said.

In 1949, the society obtained positions for 289 ex-prisoners in Alberta and assisted a total of 847.

The John Howard society is fighting hard for better trade training in Canadian penal institutions.

As a result of efforts, there has been considerable improvement in penitentiaries since 1946, but provincial jails still have no training program whatsoever, the speaker said.

Driver Faces Two Charges After Mishap

Edmonton motorist Walter Kuchar has been remanded [illegible] June 22 for trial on a charge of dangerous driving and for sentence on charge of illegal possession of liquor.

He appeared in police court yesterday when he was found not guilty of driving while drunk.

Charges arose out of an accident accused had last May 21 when his car ran into a street light pole at northeast corner of 108A avenue and 101 street.

Kuchar attributed his actions following the accident to facial and head injuries and denied police allegations he was drunk.

Magistrate S. G. Main, finding Kuchar not guilty of that charge, said there was no evidence before him that Kuchar had had anything to drink other than five or six glasses of beer at a wedding party.

Tough One To Decide

BOSTON—(UP)—It looked like fatal choice for a liquor store clerk, J. Albert Cassidy Jr., when one holdup man demanded: "Hands up!" while the gunman's companion shouted: "Hands down!" Before he had time to decide, the bandits got together and took $177 from him.

Committee To Handle Station Applications

City council's bylaws committee last night decided upon what appears to be a trial method of handling 24-hour service station policy.

The situation will be reviewed again at full council meeting on Monday night.

Bylaws committee last night decided upon a committee to study all applications. This committee would include one alderman, representative of the Automotive Trade Association, member of the Auto Workers' Association, one from Chamber of Commerce and a representative of the public generally.

In recommending to council whether an applicant be approved, the committee would be guided by the applicant's service to the public, location, and space and equipment available. Failure to give full 24-hour service would result in cancellation of the permit.

Export figures for the Netherlands for 1949 were 17 times as high as those of 1938.

Cities' Needs Are Outlined

Planning is for people.

People don't necessarily carry on their activities within arbitrary boundaries laid out in a city, and town planning aims to relate the community's physical layout to the needs of the residents.

That was Assistant Town Planner Brahm Wiesman's theme when he addressed a packed meeting at McKernan Community League Wednesday night.

He criticized the prevalent gridiron pattern of most cities, saying they are laid out without regard for the citizens.

Schools, shopping centres churches and other facilities should be so located that they serve a natural neighborhood.

CAPITOLA, Calif.—(UP)—While a San Francisco police officer, Larry Hall, demonstrated modern police methods in this village, someone stole his automobile.

Clearings Show Business Up

Bank clearings for the week ending June 8 were up over $8,000,000 over the same week last year, the Edmonton bank clearing house announced.

Clearings during the past week totalled $25,469,246 as compared with $17,190,566 last year.

The bank spokesman pointed out general business this year is well up over last year but that certain special large transactions had swelled the total above normal last week.

Stole From Landlady To Make 'New Start'

Jasper Place tenant who admittedly prepared to make "a new start" with money from sale of his landlady's furniture was sentenced in police court yesterday to six months' imprisonment.

Jasper Place Constable Lawrence Kenney told Magistrate McCalla he apprehended Remy P. LaPlante, formerly of 9830-151 street as he was preparing to leave town.

LaPlante who, according to Kenney, said he couldn't pay his rent, was charged with stealing $100 worth of household articles belonging to his landlady.

The constable said the articles had been sold in a city auction.

Wrappers Deceive Say Housewives

By Ben Thrifty

Local housewives are waving their cudgels of battle about bacon wrappers now.

They've banded together in protest to the red-striped wrappers saying "the red wrappers are deceptive and we have no way of telling whether the meat is fat or lean."

They're carrying their complaint to Ottawa by Canadian Association of Consumers.

• • •

Dominion food inspectors and meat packers are in the throes of investigating the matter, says the Ottawa CAC president.

• • •

Every now and again you may hear a woman comment "stockings aren't what they used to be" . . . or talk nostalgically of the wear she used to get from her first post-war nylons.

According to nylon know-it-alls there's a real reason for this state of diminishing wearability.

And it's all blamed on vanity.

• • •

The old adage about "Woman . . . thy name is vanity" . . . pays the toll in fragile stockings.

Today's stockings are, by demand, far sheerer than the original miracle hose of nylon. For this sheerness and added beauty the price must be paid. And the price is less durability.

• • •

So my dears . . . answer to your questions and complaints is obviously . . . beauty must be sacrificed for the sake of practicality.

But the so-called heavier nylons are pretty cob-webby compared to the latle jobs mother used to wear aren't they?

• • •

Whoopsey-daisey-do . . . I'm going to have a quick-as-a-fox supper tonight featuring a favorite rice dish of mine called simply "Tomato Rice Casserole".

Reason it's such a quickie is I'm planning to use the new tinned cooked rice. It sells at 17c per tin and serves five to six people.

• • •

This gem is a brand-new product of well-known rice distributor and comes with all the glory of a new-found homemaker's helpmate.

It can be made hot 'n ready in one minute's time and may be used in any recipe calling for cooked rice. Incidentally, no seasoning has been added because of this. And it's up to you my dear homemaker . . . to use your own seasoning discretion when you're preparing the quickie.

• • •

I s'pose you'd like my recipe for the casserole dish. Well here it is gals . . . and remember the tuna fish I've prescribed for tonight's fish-day dinner may be replaced by any cooked meat including bacon.

Add one tin cooked rice to boiling, salted water and cook for 55 seconds.

• • •

Now drain and remove: make layers of rice, tuna fish and buttered bread crumbs in a greased casserole dish.

Sprinkle seasoning and possibly chopped chives or parsley on each layer. Add one cup tomato soup or tinned tomatoes and top with more buttered bread crumbs.

Bake in moderate oven for 15 minutes and serve to your hungry family.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Boy Claims Bars Should Be Let Down in Own Home

DEAR MISS DIX: Should children always be criticized about their table manners? Should they not be able to let down at home so as to enjoy a meal?

I can remember in our home that many a wonderful meal, laboriously prepared by Mother, was spoiled by the constant nagging of Dad about our table manners. Home should be a place where you can be yourself and enjoy whatever you wish in any way you may.

It does seem funny that such a trifling thing as table manners should mean so much to some people. Such a small matter as making a sandwich at the home dinner table has all but caused a revolution in our family.

BOB, JR.

ANSWER: I agree with you that home should be a place for rest and relaxation where we are entitled to drop many of the conventional conventions we observe with strangers, but that does not mean that we can do away with the decencies of life or do as we please in the things that get on other people's nerves.

In fact, just because we are brought in daily contact with the members of our own families it is the more necessary for us to watch our step and make ourselves attractive to them.

And this matter of table etiquette cuts a much larger figure in that than you would suppose. You would be amazed at the number of letters I get from women who are on the verge of divorce because they have got to the point where they think they will commit murder if they have to watch the sloppy way their husbands eat spaghetti, soup and fruit from men who say they are married because they never buy them an unsalted lunch because they make a hissing sound when they drink their coffee of a morning.

Of course, you resent being nagged about your table manners by your father. Doubtless he is worn out trying for 30 years of having you too glad to quit.

It is unfortunate that parents have to nag, but it is only by telling [illegible] that they can [illegible] and make [illegible] gentlemen.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Parents Should Teach Children About Danger

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Every mother reaches a point at which she is no longer selfconscious of the dangers which surround her. She can afford to be indifferent for she has learned how to live with and conquer them.

But, this indifference makes her unimaginative about danger as it effects her children. She forgets that stoves can burn humans as well as cook food. She ignores the dangers of slippery rugs or the ever-present electrical outlets, or the pans of hot fobd on stoves and the tubs of boiling wash water.

No mother can expect to keep a child out of danger by simply telling him what he can't do. If he keeps away while she is near, he will hie himself promptly to the danger spot when she is out of sight. He wants to imitate an adult's behavior but overlooks her caution.

When a child is too young to be taught how to deal with menacing objects he should be protected by being in some place where he cannot touch them or they hurt him. Playpens are, sometimes over-used, but they are one sure way of keeping the inquisitive child from leaping into dangers of which he is too young to be conscious.

Always he should have the constant example of his parents' caution. "This is the way we turn on the gas stove and if it doesn't light we turn it off quickly."

"See, we never put anything in the electric outlet except this plug which fits it. Never, never!"

HOT WATER

"I handle this water so carefully and never put my hand into it unless I know that it is cool enough so it won't burn me. Hot things burn. We don't want to be burned."

And so it goes, a verbal as well as a visual education every time the parent acts. And then, as the child grows, a willingness on the part of the parent, to let the child handle matches, screw in a plug or press it in neatly, turn on the gas stove, so that he feels himself a part of the bousehold and exults in his ability to be as careful as the adults about him. And, while he learns, there must always be a protective adult to insure that his zeal to do doesn't outdistance his education in how to do things.

Our leaflet No. 73 "How to Manage the Child Wisely," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Why struggle along with those extra ten pounds in a fumbling sort of way; dieting today, indulging tomorrow? How much easier it is to stick to a diet strictly for a short time and get it over with!

Some women lose more than others on my Nine-Day Reducing Diet. The average woman will lose close to ten pounds. If you have a low metabolism and are inactive physically, you may lose only five or six pounds, but lose you will, and quickly, unless you have some physical abnormality.

Weigh before you start, and then stay with it! For health's sake you should lose that first ten pounds before it turns into twenty or thirty, which it will do unless you do something about it. If you have already allowed this to happen it will give your determination a big boost to start on a short reducing period.

Sunning Clothes
For Beach or Back Yard

Summer time is sunning time for everyone—via beach, backyard, terrace or penthouse.

Play clothes for sunning must be brief, bare, comfortable, and above all easily washable. So cottons of course are the perfect fabrics for these. But sunning clothes should also be pretty and smart, and since pique is the smartest cotton this year, we find the prettiest sun clothes in pique—both plain and printed.

You can wear either little pants or very short skirts—whichever you like best. The newest sun-pants are like little boy's shorts. The skirts are all so short that they show the knees. And above the waist — everything as brief and bare as possible to catch as much sun as you can.

slightly better aspects. Perk up—get in your innings early.

You Born Today: The Sun—indicating honor, fame, advancement—is your ruling planet. Your colors are yellow-brown, gold, orange; flowers are marigold, tiger-lily-of-the-valley; stones are emerald, topaz. Gemini can succeed especially as broker, lawyer, politician, actor. Talent for music, art, journalism. Do not strain, rush into the unknown or try too many things at once. Avoid mental dissipation, you cannot gain points by strife. Exert charm. Many fine gifts yet in 1900's store. Birthdate: Jas Hryce, famed Eng. historian, diplomat; Sir Henry Stanley, noted African explorer; Judy Garland, Russel Hayden, actors.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1950

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Less than average day, especially for money or unknown ventures. Stay within your own sphere and line of endeavor where possible—safer now. Watch trends, always.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—You born in this Sign can now make appreciable gains in handling contracting, manufacturing, developing new and modern methods for general progress. Use your fine mind well.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—For your luck or projects against you, by hinges on how thoroughly, consistently you carry out judicious guesses of adversary, professional work, skilled and detailed tasks.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Most favorable here for teaching, public and professional appearances, research, executive matters. Creative leaders and events proceed more easily as day unwinds. Be hopeful.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Avoid, if possible, all disturbing, antagonistic incidents. Irritations may run up in a.m. These conditions can be eased by good humor and right kind. Be smart: don't force.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Encouraging business and financial outlook most of day. Any opposition should appear late in day—you shall have about closed out matters. Rest a bit out from here on. Good going.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—The outdoors, agricultural interests, personal and family affairs freshly favored. Respect and sympathize with those in distress—ill and less fortunate. It gains God's blessing.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Pleasant situations should develop into your picture of endeavors. Money, property matters, commercial deals require minute attention, and you can give it.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Mostly a mental-interest day. Resist airy, less stable things. Most likely to bring profit: preplanned deals, concrete propositions of merit. Seek worth while associations.

December 23 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Personal affairs, romances, marriage demand special congeniality. Forget self to contribute to loved ones' happiness, to charity's cause—and receive blessings, satisfaction.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Be tactfully careful of words and act. Don't help create mental or physical explosiveness. Watch closely. Others' feelings are not always yours, use your sane philosophy.

FRIEND AND HELPER

Stars Were Subject Of Ancient Legends

Many years ago, shepherds with their flocks, huntsmen with their spears, sailors with their boats, and even the noble Indian crossing the open plains at night, were all fascinated by the arrangement of stars in the sky. At years past, poets and travelling minstrels would connect each little group with a picture or story.

Others would fancy they could see some shape or form in the sky at night which reminded them of their occupation. Thus wonderful stories and legends arose, based on primitive gods and goddesses and ancient myths.

INDIAN LEGEND

According to an Indian legend, the sun, moon and stars are one big family. The sun is the great chief and ruler of the heavens, the moon is his wife and the stars are their children. They believed the chief had to eat his children to keep himself alive.

But the children or stars always ran away when he arose in the morning and did not dare appear until he went into his hole in the west. He crawls along this hole till he comes to his narrow bed in the middle of the earth. This is so small it does not give him room to turn round, so when he wakes up next day, he has to creep out to the east. Then his wife, the moon, takes her rest.

Every month the moon grieves when her husband eats some of the stars, so she puts black over her gentle face to show her sorrow. This gradually wears off, till by the end of the month her face is bright again. This is repeated month after month, so the Indians believed.

Then there are many legends by the early Greeks, after which many of our star groups, or constellations, are named. Orion, for example, was a giant who wanted to marry Hero, daughter of AEnopion, king of Chios. But the king took a dislike to the suitor because of his great height.

Thinking to get rid of the troublesome person, he consented to the marriage only if Orion could free the Island of Chios from its wild beasts. This the giant did, but King AEnopion failed to keep his promise and had the man blinded.

Then Orion was directed by a blacksmith, whom he carried on his back, to the best spot to face the rising sun. Gazing at the sun every morning, he finally recovered his sight.

According to one legend, Diana slew him with her arrows. And according to another, his death was caused by the bite of a scorpion which rose fro mthe ground to punish him for boasting of his prowess as a hunter. He was then carried to the heavens and can still be seen as a constellation of 17 stars, with a glittering belt around his waist and his dog Sirius near him.

CONSENTS, IF . . .

The dog is another story. It used to be regarded by the Egyptians as a warning just as a watch-dog warns a house of coming danger. The dog in the sky could not bark, but its bright light let the Egyptians know of any harmful event about to happen, or so they believed.

When they saw the star in the early morning, they knew the Nile River would soon overflow. So one name they gave it was the Nile Star. Both the Greeks and Romans associated the Dog Star with the heat of summer and said it burned up the fields and killed the bees. We still talk of the dog days in the hot seasons.

Sincerely,

Joan Welcher

NEW DELHI.—(CP)—Indian laborers, termed "coolies" under the British regime, will in future be called "mazdoors" in all official correspondence. The government has also requested private industry to adopt the term.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

When Uncle Wiggily heard the little voice crying: "I want to be in the circus—oh, why can't I be in the circus?" he didn't know what to make of it. He was standing back a bit, watching Jumppy run around the ring with Chitter-Chatter and Buttercup on his back, and Uncle Wiggily really couldn't see where the little voice was coming from.

"My gracious!" Uncle Wiggily exclaimed to the furry fellow. "Was that you making that crying noise?"

"Yes, it was," the little animal said sadly. "I want to be in the circus, and they won't let me."

"Why not?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "But before you answer that question, will you please tell me what you are?"

"I'm a tiglon," said the little fellow proudly.

"A tiglon! Why, I never heard of such an animal!" Uncle Wiggily said. "I've heard of tigers, and I've heard of lions—"

"And I'm partly both!" the bundle of fur laughed, for he was happier now, as Uncle Wiggily usually makes people happy just by talking to them. "I'm both a tiger and a lion!"

"But how can that be?" Uncle Wiggily inquired wonderingly.

"Because my father was a tiger, and my mother was a lion—or a lioness, if you prefer. That's how," said Tiglon.

"I think that's the most wonderful animal I ever heard," the gentleman rabbit said, wiggling both his ears. "A lion and a tiger! And why won't they let you be in the circus?"

"Of course," Uncle Wiggily said heartily, because he could see that the tiny tiglon hadn't wanted to fall. "Can you do anything else?"

"Oh, yes," said Tiglon eagerly. "I can stand on my front paws—look!" And he lifted himself up, but he tilted just a wee bit too far, and over he went, on his nose again. "Excuse me," he said.

"Certainly I will," Uncle Wiggily laughed. "What else can you do?"

But Tiglon hadn't taken more than three steps before he fell again, right on his little black nose!

"Excuse me," he said.

Uncle Wiggily didn't want to laugh at the little fellow, for he could see how hard he was trying. So, instead, he went up to Tiglon and patted him on the head. "I think you'll make a marvelous circus performer," the rabbit gentleman told him. "But I think you need more practice. Would you like me to help you? Maybe together we could fix it so Hippo would want you in his circus."

"Oh, would you?" the happy Tiglon exclaimed. "I'd be ever so grateful to you if you would! I'll practice and practice and practice . . ."

"That's plenty for one day," Uncle Wiggily laughed. "Now don't you worry—everything will turn out fine!"

I hope he's right, don't you? We'll hear more about Tiny Tiglon in the next story, if the bullfrog doesn't slide down a slippery log and bump into the ground hog who's playing hide-and-seek with the chipmunk.

Charge Laid In Snatch Job

VANCOUVER, June 9.—(CP)—A man identified by police as Austin Tarleck was charged last night with snatching $8,200 from a restaurant cashier as she was taking it to the bank.

Detectives said Tarleck, arrested Wednesday night, was charged with robbery with violence after he was picked out of a police line-up.

Cashier Sheila Christie, 22, was taking the money, contained in a satchel, to a bank across the street from a south-end Granville street restaurant.

The robber dashed out, grabbed the satchel and fled. Nat Bailey, proprietor, who was standing in front of his restaurant, gave chase but was knocked to the ground. The bandit escaped in a stolen automobile, later recovered.

Dairymen Strike

PITTSBURGH, June 9—(AP)—Milk and dairy supplies were cut off from 5,000,000 Western Pennsylvanians today by a strike of 3,250 AFL dairy workers. Exact demands for the new contract have not been released.

'LONG GREEN' MOWED DOWN, OWNER LOSES

ENDICOTT, N.Y., June 9—(AP)—William Johnson does not mind cutting green stuff, as long as it's grass.

But yesterday, his wallet dropped unnoticed while he was operating a power mower in a park.

Patrolman Martin Dardis turned up at Johnson's home later with a handful of shredded bills, about $54. Dardis had discovered several persons scrambling for the pieces. He traced the money to Johnson through a sliced-up pay slip.

Duke's Memoirs Reveal 'Wally' Wanted to Leave

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor reveals today that Wallis Warfield Simpson left him and tried to break off their romance rather than cause him to give up the throne.

His future wife telephoned him from France at the height of the abdication crisis and said that "since I would not renounce her, she would perform the act of renunciation herself," the Duke says in the final instalment of his memoirs published this week in Life magazine and to be published next week in the Montreal Standard.

But the Duke says he replied: "Of course you can do whatever you wish. You can go wherever you want—to China, Labrador or the South Seas. But wherever you go I will follow you."

When he finally left Britain, no longer king, the Duke says:

"So far as I was concerned, love had triumphed over the machinations of politics.

"If it had proved my fate to sacrifice my cherished British heritage along with all the years in its service, I today draw comfort from the knowledge that time has long since sanctified a true and faithful union."

CHOSE LOVE

The Duke says he rejects any suggestion that faced with a choice between love and duty, he chose love.

"I certainly married because I chose the path of love, but I abdicated because I chose the path of duty. I did not value the crown so lightly that I gave it hastily away. I valued it so deeply that I surrendered it rather than risk any impairment of its prestige."

The Duke's memoirs give for the first time his own story of his brief reign and abdication.

In the new instalment the Duke says Mrs. Simpson's attitude never varied, once she knew that the King must choose between her and his throne.

"Her only thought was what was best for me," he said. "Whatever the cost to us personally, she said that I must remain on the throne."

JACOBY on Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY

When you have played Canasta once or twice, you find out that you must pay a lot of attention to the discards of the player at your left. From those discards you can find out a great deal about the nature of his hand. This will help you discard in such a way as not to give away the pack.

While you are watching the discards of the player at your left, don't forget to note what is done by your partner. Careful attention to your partner's discards may make a tremendous difference in your score.

For example, the other night I sat behind a player who needed 120 points for his initial meld. The opponents had already melded aces and several other denominations. The hand had progressed to a point where it was clearly up to his player to meld since it was very unlikely that his partner could.

He held, after the draw, three aces, two jacks, two nines, two deuces, and three odd cards. The question was how to meld 120 points.

TO BUILD MELD

It was important to put the deuces on a meld that would soon develop into a canasta. Otherwise the opponents would keep on melding and the hand would be disastrous.

Since the opponents had already melded aces, there was no point at all in melding deuces with the aces. The player considered putting one deuce with the jack and another deuce with the nine. This seemed dangerous, since it would mean melding nine cards. He therefore decided to put both deuces either with the Jacks or with the nines. The question was, which?

He decided to put down the two jacks with the two deuces. This decision led to disaster. He and his partner never succeeded in making a canasta. Meanwhile, the opponents ran wild and melded practically everything in the deck.

This was not a bad guess—it was bad judgment. If the player had paid attention to his partner's discards, he would have noted that his partner had already discarded two jacks but had never discarded a nine. At the time that he melded his partner held no jacks but three nines.

If he had melded the deuces with his pair of nines, his partner would have made a canasta immediately. They would have managed to meld out in short order, and would have broken even instead of losing over 4000 points on the hand.

• • •

Q—Are you compelled to use the top card of the discard pile when you take the pile?

A—Yes. Whenever you pick up the top card of the discard pile you must meld it immediately. There are no exceptions to this rule.

More East Zone Police Desert Reds

LUENBURG, Germany, June 9.—(Reuters)—Fifty-six deserters from the Soviet-zone People's Police arrived in the Luenburg district last month, it was announced here yesterday.

This brings the total of East Zone policemen who have fled across the border near here to 237 this year.

Bacon Price Support Program May Continue

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—The government is considering the possibility of extending price-support for bacon beyond the termination date of July 1 and it is expected that in all likelihood the program will be continued for another half-year, an informed official disclosed yesterday.

He said the decision to reconsider previously announced government policy arises from requests by hog producers that the program be extended and the fact that the government has not as yet been successful in buying sufficient bacon to fill the 1950 Anglo-Canadian bacon agreement.

The agreement calls for the delivery of 60,000,000 pounds of Grade A Wiltshire sides. The government program, announced earlier in the year, envisioned the purchase of this bacon supply in the first half of 1950. Some of it was to be stored and shipped in the latter months of the year.

So far the government, however, has been successful in purchasing only about 15,000,000 pounds of bacon at support prices, mainly due to the fact, said the official, that meat prices are ranging higher than expected and that Canadians are willing to pay higher prices for pork than that called for under the support program.

The government announced its support program for bacon on Jan. 3. It said it would pay Canadian producers 32½ cents a pound for the bacon and sell it to the United Kingdom for 29 cents a pound. The government said the support program would be "discontinued on and after July 1, 1950."

Because of the brighter market for pork in Canada than had been thought possible earlier in the year, the government also is believed to have dropped the idea of lifting immediately the embargo to the shipment of Canadian bacon into the United States market.

The plan was to open the border to the shipment of Canadian pork products into the U.S. as a means of stimulating the market for Canadian pork some time during the summer, possibly by the beginning of July.

Big Whale Slaps Boat With Tail

DEFALA, Morocco, June 9.—(Reuters)—A whale's tail Wednesday lashed and damaged a Spanish sardine fishing boat, the Santa Madalena, which limped leaking into this port.

Fishermen said the whale was more than 30 feet long. It dived under their boat and struck it a tremendous blow with its tail as it went.

WAITRESS TO MILLIONAIRESS IN ONE JUMP

DENVER, Colorado, June 9—(BUP)—Waitress to millionairess in one easy jump—

That's the story of Mrs. Ruby Dickey Bartges of Tucson, Arizona.

Mrs. Bartges divorced her husband—a wealthy Kansas oil man back in 1943. Three years later her husband died.

Meantime, Mrs. Bartges went to work as a waitress in a cafe, married again and was divorced again.

But today, came the windfall. District Judge Joseph Walsh has ruled that Mrs. Bartges was entitled to one-million-five-hundred thousand dollars of her first husband's estate.

Pools Pay On Ship's Arrival

DAWSON, Y.T., June 9.—(CP)—Two men picked up more than $700 between them yesterday for the most accurate guesses on opening of the navigation season here.

The freighter Casca, which left Whitehorse May 31, docked here at 10:11 a.m. Dennis Mackie, Dawson fireman, won $480 in the Canadian Legion pool. His time guess was 10:16 a.m.

H. Samuelson, editor of the Dawson News, won $300 in another pool.

CBC Chairman Sees Cuts In Services

Western Canada To Suffer If Operating Budget Slashed

OTTAWA, June 9.—(BUP)—Charlie McCarthy will have uttered his last throaty chuckle over the Dominion's airwaves if the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has its expenditures clipped, according to CBC chairman A. D. Dunton.

And with McCarthy would probably go such top-notch shows as "Stage 50" and "Opportunity Knocks," Dunton told the Commons radio committee yesterday.

Such government imposed slashes in spending would also leave whole departments out of jobs, eliminate the Dominion network and reduce service to some parts of Canada, he added.

Chairman Ralph Maybank asked Dunton what would happen if the CBC were told it could not get increased expenditures or operate with a deficit.

FILLIN SHOWS

"We could cut out Wednesday night programs, filling in with records, drop the Dominion network (the other chief CBC network is the Trans-Canada), eliminate whole departments such as the news and farm sections, fire their staffs, slash artists' fees and cut service to some areas, such as parts of Western Canada," Dunton replied.

Now, Maybank said, the CBC works on a $9,000,000 budget and has asked for an additional $1,000,000 to improve the calibre of Canadian programs. He based his question on an operating budget of $8,000,000.

Dunton said even the cuts he outlined would not make up the suggested $1,000,000 cut.

Story With A Twist

JOHANNESBURG, — (CP) — Koos Badenhorst who suffered a twisted shoulder when tackled simultaneously by two players in a rugger game required hospital treatment. Coming out of an anaesthetic, he recognized the doctors attending him as the two who had tackled him.
